BALTIMORE, Sunday, April 12, 1863.

I have just reached this point from Charleston Harbor via Fortress Monroe, by the gunboat Flambeau, bringing official dispatches from Admiral DUPONT.

The iron-clad fleet, in its attack on Fort Sumter, has met with a repulse, but not a disaster. The attack was made on the afternoon of Tuesday, the 7th inst., and continued for two hours and a half. The fleet had all been got over the bar the day previous, and lay at anchor in the main ship channel along the shore of Morris Island, at a distance of about a mile.

The line of battle was formed in the following order:

1. The Weehawken, Capt. J. RODGERS.
2. The Passaic, Capt. PERCIVAL DRAYTON.
3. The Montauk, Commander J. L. WORDEN.
4. The Patapsco, Commander D. AMMEN.
5. The Ironsides, Commander T. TURNER.
6. The Catskill, Commander G. W. RODGERS.
7. The Nantucket, Commander D. McN. FAIRFAX.
8. The Nahant, Commander J. DOWNES.
9. The Keokuk, Commander A. C. RHIND.

The Ironsides was Admiral DUPONT's flag-ship.

The official order was to pass the batteries on Morris Island without returning their fire, and pass inside of Fort Sumter, and devote themselves to bombarding Fort Sumter at a distance of from six to eight hundred yards.

At 2 o'clock the head of the line was in motion, the rest following. The batteries on Morris Island did not open on the fleet at all, and the enemy made no fire until the fleet had reached a position between Forts Sumter and Moultrie, when a terrific broadside came from the barbette guns of Sumter. At the same time the batteries on Cumming's Point and Sullivan's Island opened, and the iron ships were exposed to a concentric fire from five different points, unparalleled in the history of warfare.

The fleet found it impossible to pass up beyond Fort Sumter and assume its appointed place, owing to obstructions, which extended across the entire channel from Sumter and Moultrie, while above these, near the middle ground, were three other rows of piles, and above these three rebel iron-clads. The fleet was thus compelled to sustain this terrific fire, and nobly it did so, for thirty minutes. During that time not less than thirty-five hundred shots were fired by the enemy, one hundred and sixty being counted in a single minute.

At the end of this time five of the nine iron-clads were found to be more or less disabled, and at 4 o'clock the flagship signaled to retire.

The Keokuk, with splendid audacity, had run up to within five hundred yards of the fort, and near her was the Catskill. The whole fleet devoted themselves to Fort Sumter; but, owing to the limited time the ships were enabled to remain, comparatively few shots were fired.

The Ironsides, caught in the tide, was in great part unmanageable. In consequence, Admiral DUPONT had to signal to the fleet to disregard the movements of the flagship.

The iron-clads received each from twenty to ninety shots. The Keokuk was the worst used up, receiving several shots below and above the water line. The other four, though in reality but slightly injured, were yet rendered temporarily unfit for use. They will speedily be repaired. The Keokuk was, however, so badly damaged that she sunk this morning in the position near her original anchorage. She will be blown up, to prevent her falling into the hands of the rebels.

Fort Sumpter shows some ugly pock marks on her eastern face.

The land force had been landed on Folly Island, near Stono, but did not co-operate in the attack.

The attack should really be regarded in the light of a reconnoissance, and though it was not successful, yet it was not as disastrous as it might have been. When you learn the full details you will see that the result is, on the whole, far from discouraging.

CASUALTIES ON THE NAHANT.

Commander J. DOWNES, Massachusetts, slight contusion of foot, from piece of iron, loosened in pilot-house.

Pilot Isaac Sofield, New-York, severe contusion neck and shoulders, from flying bolt in pilot-house. Is doing well.

Quartermaster Edward Cobb, Massachusetts—compound fracture of skull from flying bolt in pilot-house. He has since died.

John McAllister, seaman, Canada—concussion of brain from flying bolt in turret. Doing well.

J. Jackson, seaman, Massachusetts. R. Martin, seaman, Massachusetts. J. Murray, seaman, Massachusetts—very slightly hurt.

CASUALTIES ON KEOKUK.

Commander A. C. Rhind—contusion of leg.
A. McIntosh, Acting Ensign—dangerously.
C. McLaughlin, seaman—dangerously.
J. Ryan, seaman—seriously.
W. McDonald, seaman—seriously.
E. Nicholson, quartermaster—slightly.
D. Chaplin, seaman—slightly.
C. B. Mott, landsman—slightly.
J. M. Abbott, seaman—slightly.
J. O'Connor, landsman—slightly.
G. Wilsed, seaman—slightly.
J. Brown, seaman—slightly.
H. Swords, seaman—slightly.

THE PRESS DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sunday, April 12.

The steamer Flambeau arrived here this afternoon with Lieut.-Commander RHIND, as bearer of dispatches from Admiral DUPONT to the Government. The reports from the several Commanders had not been received up to the time of the departure of the Flambeau, viz.: Wednesday night. From other than official sources it is ascertained that the vessels composing the fleet advanced upon Charleston on the 7th, in the following order: Weehawken, Capt. JOHN RODGERS; Passaic, Capt. DRAYTON; Montauk, Capt. WORDEN; Patapsco, Capt. AMMEN; Ironsides, (the flagship,) Commander TURNER, with Admiral DUPONT and his Staff on board; next followed the Catskill, Capt. GEORGE RODGERS; Nantucket, Capt. FAIRFAX; Nahant, Capt. DOWNES, and Keokuk, Capt. RHIND.

In this order they proceed up the main channel arriving within seven hundred yards of the main forts. The Ironsides became unmanageable, owing to the tide and the narrowness of the channel, and she was therefore obliged to drop anchor to prevent drifting ashore. Owing to these circumstances, she signaled her consorts to disregard her motions. The remainder of the squadron continued on its course, and soon came within easy range of the rebel fire from all points.

The obstructions of the channel from Forts Sumter to Moultrie, interfered with the progress of our ships. In consequence of this and the position of the Ironsides, as above stated, the plan of operations or battle was deranged; and the space for manoeuvring being only from 500 to 1,000 yards, the vessels were obliged to prepare and at once engage the forts, and the adjacent batteries. The signal had been made for action at 3½ o'clock in the afternoon, by the Ironsides, but the rebels had previously opened fire on the leading vessels. The contest is represented as in the highest degree exciting, presenting a fearful scene of fire belching from all points on the land and water—a continuous roar of cannon.

In the course of thirty or forty minutes the Keokuk was in a sinking condition, and was obliged to withdraw from the fire and seek an anchorage below the range of the enemy's guns. A few minutes afterward all the vessels withdrew, from a signal of the flagship, it being deemed impracticable to continue any further hostilities. The Keokuk was within 500 or 600 yards of Sumter, and was completely riddled—struck from all the batteries within range, at least ninety times in thirty minutes. The shot was from rifled cannon of the heaviest calibre. Capt. RHIND, her commander, received a contusion on the leg from a flying fragment of his vessel, which only slightly lamed him. Twelve of the men were wounded, together with Acting Ensign MACINTOSH, who had charge of one of the guns. The injuries are supposed to be fatal.

The next morning, finding it impossible to save the vessel, Capt. RHIND called a tug which took all his men on board. A few minutes thereafter the Keokuk sunk. The persons belonging to the ship lost all their private effects. On Wednesday the squadron remained at anchor in the main ship channel.

It is said the number of men in our fleet was only about 1,100 with 30 guns, while the enemy had, it is supposed, at least, 300 guns, the best in the world.

The injury to the vessels, excluding the Keokuk, are represented to be of such character as will require but a short time for repairs. The casualties among our men were remarkably few, including one killed and three wounded on the Nahant.

The advantage of our fleet being in possession of the main ship channel, narrows the circuit of the blockade two-thirds of the former distance. None of the batteries fired upon our vessels until the latter reached the vicinity of the main forts.

NEWS RECEIVED IN NEW-YORK.

The steamship George Peabody, Capt. ATWELL, from New-Orleans the 31st ult., via Fort Pickens, Key West, Hilton Head and Charleston bar on the 9th inst., arrived at this port last evening.

Capt. ATWELL reports that the Monitor Nahant arrived at Port Royal for repairs on the 9th inst. He counted five holes in her chimney where rebel shot had penetrated, and observed some rivets displaced from her turret. Five hundred shots had been fired at her from the rebel batteries in Charleston harbor. Her guns could not be worked to advantage, but it was said she was not seriously injured.

The Keokuk had sunk and one man on board was lost.

On the 9th inst., at 10 P. M., the Geo. Peabody spoke two gunboats off Charleston bar, but could obtain no definite news in regard to affairs at that point. It was reported that Gen. HUNTER was up the bay.

The British steamship Dolphin, prize to the United States steamer Wachusett, arrived at Key West April 1.

The schooner Clara, prize to the United States steamer Kennebec, was captured off Mobile on the 25th ult.

NEW-YORK, Sunday, April 12—Midnight.

The following dispatch has been received from a gentleman on board the steamer Mary Sanford:

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C., Friday, April 10,
via FORTRESS MONROE, Sunday, April 12.

We passed through the fleet off Charleston on Thursday, 9th inst., at 10 A. M. The weather was clear and pleasant.

The monitors were ranged along the beach off Cumming's Point, all in good order.

We were boarded by one of the pilots of the expedition, who states that the Ironsides and seven of the monitors attacked Fort Sumter on Tuesday, 7th, and passed some distance above the Fort, receiving some two hundred shots. A pointed shot, of English manufacture, penetrated the iron-clad Whitney battery, Keokuk, and she sunk in 12 hours after near the beach. The other iron-clads passed through the shower of shot and shell uninjured, or with trifling damage. The casualties reported were very few. Capt. RHIND, of the Keokuk, was slightly injured by a bolt. The Quartermaster and six men on board the Monitor Nantucket were killed.

Arrangements are being made to blow up the Keokuk.

As regards future movements, reports are conflicting. It was positively stated by one of the pilots who boarded us that the Monitors would withdraw over the bar, and further action for the present would be suspended. This was subsequently corroborated by a reporter for a New-York paper.

An officer from the James Adger, who previously boarded us, stated that the engagement would be renewed about 1 P. M., and added that the Admiral expressed his belief of success.

The channel above the fort was unobstructed.

No torpedoes are reported to have been exploded.

We left the fleet at noon. When about 25 miles north heard heavy firing.

The weather is exceedingly pleasant and the sea smooth.

[The above was a private message, addressed to Col. SANFORD, military censor.]

NEWS VIA FORTRESS MONROE.

FORT MONROE, Sunday, April 12.

The Mary Sandford arrived at Morehead Friday from off Charleston, with information of the entire attack, which commenced at 2 o'clock and lasted three hours. The Keokuk passed half a mile above Sumter, where she met with obstructions, at which time a terrific firing was kept up on both sides, when she received a shot that passed through her between wind and water, from which she sunk in eleven hours.

The Nahant was within 700 yards of Fort Sumter in the action, and received a shell at the junction of the turret with the deck, which prevented the turret from revolving, and rendering her useless for the time.

The Ironsides received one hundred and fifty shots, sustaining no damage further than starting a few bolts.

The rest of the fleet is uninjured and hauled off, the object of the reconnoissance being accomplished, which was to ascertain the locality of the obstructions.

Our entire loss was two killed and seven wounded.

As the Sanford left some iron-clads were going to to blow up the Keokuk.

THE NEWS IN WASHINGTON.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, April 12.

The news from Charleston, brought by the commander of the Keokuk, and by New-York newspaper correspondents, has got, in three hours, a trifle of exaggeration. The country at large should have known that the Keokuk's armor was thin—that she was every way a weak vessel; that her inviting sides floated five feet above the water, while the Monitors exposed but as many inches to the enemy's fire. She had two turrets, also, while EADS's and ERICSSON's ships have but one. It was an accident mostly that placed the Keokuk at the head of the attacking line, and we paid the price of accidents in war, which are blunders, in having about ninety shots thrown through and through her. The Monitors which were exposed to the same fire suffered no serious damage. But one of our men was killed, so far as Capt. RHIND knows, and he was injured by a bolt driven inwards by a shot striking it on the head outside. A few of our sailors were slightly wounded. The country may accept this assurance—that the impregnability of our iron-clads has been demonstrated in the preliminary engagement before Charleston. They were exposed for hours to the concentrated fire, at five hundred yards' distance, of the strongest batteries that have ever been erected for harbor defence, armed with the best English Whitworth and Blakeley guns. They were not damaged to any serious degree.

The story, spread through the city, that our entire fleet had hurried back to Port Royal, is false. It is within the bar,—and it will stay there, too, till it anchors abreast the Charleston wharves. We now have possession of the whole of the main ship channel into the harbor, and command Morris Island. In one day we have shortened our line of blockade fully two-thirds, and enabled the Navy Department to relieve the most of the vessels so long occupied in watching the Swash and the other channels; and we have also got our iron-clads in a landlocked harbor, safe from the storms that vex the outside of the bay.

REBEL VIEWS OF THE SITUATION.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, April 12.

The following is taken from the Richmond Examiner of the 10th:

"What was that news—'The fall of Charleston!' Nothing less than that! On the foundation of a rumor from Fortress Monroe, the journals of the modern Gomorrah are all ablaze. Curly editorials on the transcendent victory in the Herald, Tribune and TIMES. Universal enthusiasm for the Union in the streets. Gold falling, falling; paper raising like a kite. The published information, when examined, does not, it is true, exactly amount to the capture of the city; but the general impression made by the Press and Government agents is certainly to that effect. Such statements were evidently put forth for the purpose of swindling and robbery. What will be the effect when the truth comes out? What will those who have parted with their money on this false information feel, say, do, when they learn that Charleston has not fallen, though its defences have, indeed, caught the "devil" and sunk the Keokuk. If any spirit was remaining in that people, it should at once revolt, or at least do violence to those who deceived them, that they might plunder them.

But the outcry which will follow the statement of the true facts will be quickly lost in the thundering rush of events. New York will soon have something more important than false news and brokerage gambling to talk about. The day of inaction is over. To-morrow we may have to turn the tide of victory or defeat at points now disregarded. At Charleston, too, a drawn combat is expected by those who have better means of anticipating the future than ourselves, because they are on the spot. Let us hope that their expectations will be fulfilled, for it is an expectation of triumph to the South and disaster to the enemy.

IMPORTANT FROM TENNESSEE.

Official Account of the Last Fight at Franklin.

Van Dorn Repulsed at All Points and Pursued Until Dark.

His Loss Three Hundred Killed and Wounded.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, April 12.

The following has been received at the headquarters of the army:

MURFREESBORO, Tenn., April 11.

Major-Gen. Halleck, General-in-Chief:

The following dispatch was received from Gen. GRANGER on the 10th:

VAN DORN made his promised attack to-day at one o'clock, directly in front and on the town. The infantry regiments on guard in town, with the cavalry pickets, held him at bay until their ammunition was exhausted. The dense smoke and atmosphere favored their operations, enabling them to approach very near without our being able to observe them. Our siege guns and our light batteries opened upon them with murderous effect, literally strewing the ground with men and horses. I had posted STANLEY four miles out on the Murfreesboro road. He at once crossed his forces over at Heights' Mills, vigorously attacking FORREST's division as moving down on the Lewisburgh pike, capturing six pieces of artillery and some two hundred prisoners, but owing to the unfavorable nature of the country, was unable to hold them, being attacked by greatly superior numbers, outflanked and nearly surrounded. Our loss in killed, wounded and prisoners is less than one hundred, while the enemy's cannot be less than three times that number. They were repulsed on all sides, and driven until darkness prevented the pursuit. Capt. MCINTYRE, of the Fourth Regulars, took the battery and prisoners, bringing off thirty-odd of the latter.

(Signed,)
G. GRANGER, Major-General.
W. S. ROSECRANS, Major-General.

DISPATCH TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

CINCINNATI, Sunday, April 12.

A special dispatch to the Commercial, from Murfreesboro, says:

VAN DORN attacked GRANGER with 15,000 men. The battle lasted nearly all day. The enemy was repulsed, with a loss of 300. Our loss was about 100. Gen. STANLEY's cavalry, led by him in person, charged and captured a battery and 200 prisoners, but being unsupported, were compelled to relinquish the battery, and all but twenty of the prisoners. The enemy was pursued until dark.

IMPORTANT FROM NORTH CAROLINA.

Failure of an Attempt to Reinforce Gen. Foster.

HIS REFUSAL TO SURRENDER WASHINGTON

FORTRESS MONROE, Sunday, April 12.

The S. R. Spaulding arrived to-day from Morehead City yesterday.

No communication has been received at Newbern from Gen. FOSTER since Wednesday night. Women and children are leaving Newbern. Seven thousand troops, attempting to reach Washington from Newbern, were driven back on Wednesday eight miles, with the loss of about fifty men.

The last accounts from Gen. FOSTER state that the rebels had sent in three flags of truce for him to surrender Washington. FOSTER's reply to the last was to send no more flags; if they did he would capture them, and if they wanted Washington, to come and take it.

FROM NEW-ORLEANS.

Arrival of the George Peabody—List of Casualties on Board the Gunboat Diana.

By the steamer George Peabody, we have the New-Orleans Era of April 2—evening.

The Bayou Bœuf correspondent of the Era, dating April 1, says:

"So far as can be ascertained the following is the correct list of casualties on the Diana:"

Capt. Peterson, killed; Executive Officer Hall, shot in the head, seriously; Master's-Mate Weston, prisoner; Master's-Mate Dolliver, killed; Chief-Engineer McNelly, killed; Third-Assistant-Engineer McLoughlin, prisoner. Mr. Dodd, the pilot, and Mann, Third-Assistant-Engineer, were the only officers not killed or taken prisoners.

In Company A, 12th Connecticut, First Lieut. Wm. S. BUCKLEY commanding:

First Lieut. Wm. S. Buckley, prisoner; Second Lieut. Charles Lourie, prisoner; private Francis Boyd, wounded seriously; private Charles Mentour, in the arm, slightly; private G. N. Laippe, in the side slightly; private John Swift, in the shoulder, slightly; private John Shelle, in the head, slightly; Sergt.-Major Charles Sherman, in the arm, slightly.

The following is the official list of the casualties in Co. F, Capt. JEWETT, 160th N. Y. V.:

Capt. J. P. Jewett, wounded seriously in the head, prisoner; Second Lieut. E. Kirby, prisoner; Corporal B. B. Steele, prisoner; private W. H. Bailey, killed; private G. Lathrop, ——; private J. F. Lovejoy, Jr., killed; private Levi Slater, killed; Sergeant G. W. Verplank, wounded slightly, paroled; Corporal J. D. Clark, wounded slightly in the face, paroled; Corporal J. E. White, wounded slightly, paroled; Corporal D. Pettit, wounded slightly, paroled; private N. McPherson, wounded slightly, paroled; private N. Johnson, wounded seriously, paroled; private S. Symonds, wounded seriously, paroled.

Besides those above mentioned two sergeants, two corporals, and nineteen privates were captured and paroled.

A large rebel river boat is now at Bradshaw City with a flag of truce, but I cannot ascertain the object for which it came.

The Era has the following paragraphs:

The United States war steamer Arizona, DANIEL J. UPTON, Lieutenant Commanding, from Philadelphia, 10th ult., via Key West, 27th, is in the stream.

The Tisdale case, in which a Mr. TISDALE had been charged with treason, in exhibiting secesh emblems at a fair, had been decided by Judge PEABODY in favor of TISDALE, who was discharged.

The light at Ship Island has been extinguished.

There is nothing in it from Baton Rouge or Texas.

THE SIEGE OF VICKSBURGH

Return of the Yazoo Pass Expedition.

The Vicksburgh Blockade to be Run By Several Iron-Clads.

CAIRO, Sunday, April 12.

A special to the Times, from Helena, Ark., 9th says:

The entire Tallahatchie fleet, consisting of the divisions under Gens. ROSS and QUINBY, and numerous gun and mortar-boats, arrived last night. The expedition, which has been absent forty-three days, left Fort Greenwood Sunday. As soon as the bustle was observed by the enemy, they opened a brisk fire upon the woods, where batteries had been planted, which continued till the last boat steamed up the river. On the passage the boats were frequently fired on by guerrillas. A number of soldiers were wounded, and 20 or 30 killed.

The divisions under QUINBY and HOVEY have been ordered to Vicksburgh.

CAIRO, Sunday, April 12.

The dispatch boat New-National has arrived from Vicksburgh, which place she left Wednesday. She brings the news that the iron-clads Louisville, Mound City, Carondelet, Benton, Lafayette and two others, are prepared to run the blockade. They expected to execute the movement Friday or Saturday night. It was also said that transports had been prepared with log and cotton bulkheads to run the batteries.

The reported arrival of Gen. OSTERHAUS at Carthage, ten miles below Warrenton, on the Louisiana side, with a heavy force, is confirmed.

Great Improvement in the Sanitary Condition of the Army—Good Hospital Accommodations—Discipline in the Old and the New Regiments—A New Canal Commenced—The Capture of the Rebel Steamer Vicksburgh, &c.

From Our Own Correspondent.

NEAR VICKSBURGH, Tuesday, April 1, 1863.

The late "spell" of wintry weather has passed, and, once more divested of overcoats, men have left the vicinity of camp-fires, and are enjoying the warmth of as glorious sunshine as ever vivified or gladdened the earth.

Since my letter relative to the amount of sickness in the army here, and the shameful neglect which our soldiers experienced, there have been many and important changes. New accommodations have been provided for the sick, medicines and sanitary supplies have become abundant, dry, airy localities have been selected for hospital sites, and arrangements have been made to classify the sick, by providing for them post-hospitals, convalescent hospitals, or by sending them up the river to Memphis and St. Louis. One of the finest institutions that has sprung up under the new order of things, is a convalescent hospital, established on the Marshal Plantation at Milliken's Bend, under the experienced care of Surgeon E. C. FRANKLIN.

There is a fine roomy mansion, surrounded by a garden rich in plants, and gorgeous with the green and gold of tropic flowers. This, instead of being taken possession of by some individual and Staff—gaudy with buttons and shoulder-straps—has been given up wholly to the use of the sick. Back of the building are two long rows of whitewashed cottages, equal in size, convenience and cleanliness to the house occupied by well-to-do mechanics in any of the Eastern States. Between these rows of quarters is a broad lawn, level as an esplanade, and shaded by the overarching branches of beautiful willow-oak, China and fig-trees. Beneath, long lines of hospital huts have been erected, and to these huts and buildings are sent the sick, to draw health from the pure air and beautiful scenery which surround them. There is an exhaustless supply of pure rain-water, of sheets, cots, clean clothing, food, medicines—in short, everything which a sick man needs to assist him back to life and health.

There is very little sickness in the army among the old regiments—among the regulars, a sick man is a rarity. The officers have gained experience, lost fear of their commands, and strenuously insist upon perfect cleanliness in the camps and of the persons of their soldiers. Upon selecting a camp, it is at once ditched, and thereafter each morning is swept till its cleanliness will rival that of the floor of an Amsterdam housekeeper.

With our new regiments it is different. Each colonel comes into the field expecting to run for Congress, each captain has his eye upon a seat in the State Legislature, each lieutenant and non-commissioned officer is looking forward to the hour when he can appeal to the patriotism of the public for the position of justice of the peace, constable, pound-master or something; and, in consequence, not one of them dares say a peremptory word to his "fellow-countrymen and independent voters" under his command, lest it may influence their suffrages.

Of course, all the new regiments are not thus affected, although there are enough thus situated to make their case worthy of remark. It is from commands in which, from these and other causes, there prevails a laxity of discipline, that a majority of all the sick come; and it is also from the ranks of such regiments that sneak forth the scoundrels who so frequently disgrace our arms and cause by arson, robbery, and, at times, crimes of a more hideous character.

I noticed this democratical element in an expedition of which the TIMES has already been advised. On the boat, during our progress up, no line officers could be found who would associate with each other; but on the contrary, each individual with a shoulder-strap hunted up their privates, and at once commenced a game of euchre or old sledge, and to electioneer in a small way, for the next vacancy in office and popularity at home. In the rush to the table for meals, officers unceremoniously submitted to be crowded into waiting for the second or third meal, in order that their prospective constituency might at once satisfy their hunger, and not obtain cause of offence against their superiors.

In a conversation with the colonel, he assured me, in a tone not intended to reach the ears of a crowd of airy, lounging blue-coats close by, that discipline degraded men, by making mere machines of them, and that in this country, where one man is as intelligent, moral and sensitive as any other, we have no right to tame men by drill and break their spirit by restraint.

When the regiment left the boat, I found that about one-half of my clothing had disappeared. Thankful that they had been considerate enough to leave me even one-half, I bade them god-speed, but determined in future to keep myself and effects as far removed as possible from connection with those gentlemanly, not-to-be-crushed-or-disciplined patriots.

So far as I know, all the old, long-entertained cut-offs, viz.: The Canal, Lake Providence, Yazoo Pass and Deer Creek have been abandoned, and our speculating Generals are casting their eyes about for new cut-offs to conquer. I think they have not looked in vain, but have found some acre of land undisturbed or some yard of levee uncut, and are about going at it. I infer this for the reason that yesterday I saw two dredging machines charging upon the levee at a place not a hundred miles from here, while all this morning the Henry Bush has been taking on contrabands, each armed to the teeth with a shovel, and evidently on desperate digging schemes intent.

Look out in a few days for telegraphic information from Washington, Memphis and Cairo that the Pawpaw cut-off is nearly completed; that a gunboat has gone through; that the whole fleet has passed down, and has entered the Mississippi below Vicksburgh; that the Department is in receipt to-night of stirring and cheering news from the Pawpaw cut-off—the information soon after closing with the announcement that the whole affair is—well, not a success.

The omission on the part of the Senate to confirm several of the President's Western nominations for Brigadier-Generals, has created no little confusion and much annoyance in this Department, and will necessarily involve the resignations of several valuable officers. Many of the cases present features of peculiar hardship—as, for instance, in the case of Gen. DAVID STUART, of Chicago. He has put two first-class regiments in the field since the war broke out, and has spared no time or expense in making them equal in every respect to any troops in the service. His diligence and ability induced the President, upon the recommendation of Gens. GRANT, SHERMAN, and others, to nominate him a Brigadier-General. He assumed the position—the vacancies which were caused by his leaving his regiment were filled, and the commissions issued to the proper officers. The Senate failed to confirm him, and the result is that he finds himself, as it were, out of the service. He intends, I believe, doing what he has not done since he entered the service, a year and a half ago—that is, go home. By this the army will lose one of the ablest and most efficient officers now in the field. Gen. THAYER, of Nebraska; HARVEY, of Illinois, and several others, find themselves in the same unpleasant situation.

That "it is an ill wind which blows nobody any good" was finely illustrated in the gale, which, a few nights since, caused such a commotion among boats, steamboat chimneys and other objects. In blowing us against the shore, it blew off at Vicksburgh, and tore the steamer Vicksburgh from her moorings, and carried her along with 2,000 bales of cotton directly into the arms of FARRAGUT below. The cotton was speedily transferred to loyal craft, and as the Vicksburgh was useless from the want of machinery, she was burned up. The prize money which thus fell into the hands of the lucky captor is a very handsome little amount—sufficient to afford a moderate competence for everybody on board from the Admiral to the scullion.

The ram Switzerland was probably ready for service yesterday.

To-day, Gen. STEELE's division is embarking for a short expedition up the river.

FROM THE STATE CAPITAL.

The Anti-Gold Speculation Bill—The Bill to Promote Re-enlistments—The Staten Island Ferry Bill, &c.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ALBANY, Saturday, April 11, 1863.

The Senate Anti-Gold Speculation bill was announced in the House this morning, and, on motion of Mr. DEAN, was referred to the Committee on Banks, with the right to report at any time. The Senate amendments were deemed too important for immediate action. Of the passage of the bill substantially as it came from the Senate, there is hardly a doubt.

The bill to promote reënlistments, from the Senate, was considered in the House in Committee of the Whole last evening, when, after debate, the amendment offered by Mr. DEAN, having for its object the prevention of the enlistment of colored persons in this for other States, was adopted. The Conscription act makes no distinction as to color, and blacks as well as whites are liable to be drafted. It is claimed that there are at least one thousand blacks in the State liable to be drafted under the law, and that therefore drafting for black regiments in other States should be prevented. The bill was ordered to a third reading, after being amended so as to provide that no bounty shall hereafter be paid unless half of the amount is allotted to the family, or whoever is dependent on the soldier for support. The bill was passed, this morning, by a nearly unanimous vote.

The passage in the House, this morning, of the Staten Island Ferry bill, vesting in the Mayor and Commonalty the leasing, and in the Mayor, Comptroller and President of Councilmen the regulation of Ferries to Staten Island, is the subject of sincere congratulation, because it opens up the prospect of emancipation from the George Law monopoly. Much is due to Mr. FREAR, of Richmond, for his efforts in behalf of the interests of his constituents and the public in this matter.

In addition to the provisions of other acts for the relief of indigent families of volunteers, Mr. F. E. HAWES has, with the unanimous consent of the House, reported a bill, which was immediately committed to the Committee of the Whole, which provides that the Supervisor, Town Clerk and Justices in the towns of the State shall be an ex officio board, with power to afford necessary relief to indigent families of volunteers, the amount to be audited and collected the same as other town charges.

The Senate bill to authorize the Corporation of the City of New-York to construct a slip in front of a part of the Battery, and to lease same, gives the Mayor and Comptroller of New-York the right to enter into a contract with the Staten Island and New-York Ferry Company, in other words—GEORGE LAW, or any other person or persons, for the construction of a slip at the easterly corner of the Battery, west of and adjoining the pier lying west of Pier No. 1, East River, not exceeding 200 feet wide, in width, and to lease the same to be used for the purpose of a Ferry to Staten Island.

This is an old soldier in a new uniform.

The House went into the order of presentation of petitions, when there was another avalanche of petitions in favor of accepting the offer of [illegible] for the Broadway franchise—probably not less than four or five hundred separate petitions from all parts of the State, signed by many thousand names. They were all referred to the Committee on Railroads, that Committee giving a hearing to all interested on Monday, at 9½ o'clock A. M., when it is understood JOHN VAN BUREN will appear in behalf of Mr. STEWART and his associates.

The Committee on Internal Affairs in the House, this morning, reported the License bill amended, as instructed yesterday. Mr. T. C. FIELDS endeavored to make it the special order for a future day, but did not obtain the necessary number of votes. The bill appears to be hung up.

Mr. DEAN's resolutions amending the Constitution on the question in relation to allowing soldiers to vote, were called up to-day, and made the special order for Tuesday next. There is small prospect of their passage, while the Senate bill on the same subject is likely to become a law.

The House has signified its views concerning the day of adjournment, by adopting the joint resolution designating Saturday the 18th, as the day for closing the session. The Senate has yet to act on it.

The Commissioners for Improving the Navigation of the Hudson held a session this morning, and, in the absence of other means, determined to proceed with dredging the river at private expense. The Reindeer has passed the Coxsackie Bar, but the Boston, with others, is still there.

MONDAY, April 13—A. M.

The Foreign Trade of the past week was much lighter than the previous return, both in Imports and Exports. The Export of Specie is also moderate, comparing $607,000 with $1,491,000 the corresponding week last year. Complaints continue to be made in most branches of business of the depressing influence of the ups and downs in the price of Gold and rates of Foreign Exchange. These frequent and violent fluctuations, the result wholly of speculation in Gold, irrespective of the course of Exchange and the demand for Gold to settle balances abroad, not only unsettled the prices of Foreign and Domestic Merchandise, but also unsettled the disposition of buyers to come into the market, except to supply their immediate or pressing wants. Several steamer cargoes of French and English Goods, and one or two Indiamen arrived at the close of the week, but are not yet discharged, and the probability is that the next return of Import entries will be larger than the present. The course of the Money Market is easy and steady, both for private borrowers and for the Government. The latter is in receipt of $1,500,000 or $2,000,000 for conversion of U. S. Currency into the 6 ₩ cent. Loan of 1863 at par, and on temporary deposit at 5 ₩ cent. per annum. Most of these sums are received at New-York, though other points are participating liberally in the subscriptions to the new loan.

The price of Gold Coin fell early in the week to 152, and subsequently to 146@145½ ₩ cent., but on Friday and Saturday the price returned to 150@153, under the conflicting news from Charleston, and rumors that the House of Assembly, at Albany, may not pass the Restraining Bill, in the absence of which some of the speculators calculate that greater facilities will be afforded for borrowing Currency on the pledge of Gold at Bank. The Stock Exchange has ruled somewhat tame on the greater part of the official list, the exceptions being Harlem, Hudson River and Michigan Southern. In the first-named the extreme fluctuations are equal to 15 ₩ cent., both up and down. The Government Securities are in fair demand, though fewer orders appeared during the week for European account. For Treasury Certificates there is a large demand, at 100¼ for the old and 99@98½ for the new issue. The Treasury 7.30 ₩ cents are less buoyant since the 1st April interest was paid.

The Import entries of the past week, including the Dry Goods return in our last paper, amount to $2,718,771 against $2,593,141 same week last season. The export clearances of Domestic Produce amount to $2,474,375 against $2,297,152 same week in 1862. The Export of Specie is $607,000 against $1,491,000 same week last year.

Mr. ALBERT H. NICOLAY will hold his regular semi-weekly Auction Sale of Stocks and Bonds, this day, Monday, April 13th, at 12½ o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway. For full particulars see his advertisement.

Mr. CHARLES A. FISHER, of the Stock Exchange, has been admitted a partner in the firm of BROWN & WILSON, No. 19 Wall-st.

The Africa, from England, reports a declining quotation for the bogus Loan upon Confederate Cotton recently foisted upon the London market. In addition to the shuffling note of JOHN SLIDELL, noticed in another part of this paper, the London Times publishes, by way of bolstering this extraordinary "negotiation," a letter of A. B. from some Liverpool Coffee-house explaining why the European public cannot be favored with no more than £3,000,000, and how the fortunate holders will realize 100 ₩ cent. on their Cotton—when they get it. He undertakes to say that ERLANGER, the Frankfort contractor, offered for £5,000,000, while the Richmond authorities could not be induced to accept more than £3,000,000. The Times, in introducing this letter, says that the rate at which, according to rumor, the Loan was contracted altogether out of proportion to the allotment price in England, say at 50 or 60 or 65 ₩ cent., but "it is now positively stated that the actual price was only a little below 90 ₩ cent.;" but by whom stated we are not informed.

The Journal of Commerce quotes certain decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States that duties on Imports are a debt to the Government. These decisions date back thirty or forty years, when duties upon Imports were a debt to the Government, because bonds were taken for their payment six or twelve months after the duties were incurred and the Merchandise delivered. But since the Tariff act of 1846, all duties upon Imports are made cash before the delivery of the Merchandise. There is no debt to the Government contracted. The Cash must be paid in advance, and in Coin, since the Acts of Congress establishing United States Notes of legal tender, make duties upon Imports and interest upon the Public Debt—the one being pledged for the other—special exceptions from the ordinary receipt of these notes. The Journal will also understand, that Mr. CISCO himself was our authority for stating that since the cash system of duties, other Secretaries than Mr. CHASE have held that such duties are not a debt to the Government in the ordinary sense.

The return from the Bank of England for the week ending the 25th of March gives the following results when compared with the previous week:

Rest	£3,676,383	Increase	£7,519
Public Deposits	10,364,471	Increase	1,020,972
Other Deposits	12,742,282	Decrease	260,669
Gov't Securities	11,293,884	Increase	100,276
Other Securities	20,505,474	Increase	313,802
Notes unemployed	9,194,035	Increase	330,820

The amount of notes in circulation is £19,504,050, being an increase of £134,800; and the stock of bullion in both departments is £15,025,274, showing an increase of £477,462, when compared with the preceding return.

GENERAL MARKETS.

NEW-YORK, Saturday, April 11, 1863—6 P. M.

The receipts of the principal kinds of produce since our last have been: 15 bbls. Ashes, 12,637 bbls. Flour, 466 bbls. and 1,071 bags Corn Meal, 3,568 bushels Wheat, 12,528 bushels Corn, 120 bushels Rye, 11,865 bushels Oats, 3,189 bushels Malt, 10,090 pkgs. Provisions, and 763 bbls. Whisky.

ASHES—Sales, to-day, 36 bbls., including Pots, at $8@$8 25, and Pearls at $9@$9 12½ ₩ 100 lbs. Stock in the Inspection Warehouse, this morning, 317 bbls., including 295 bbls. Pots and 22 bbls. Pearls.

BOOTS AND SHOES—Business has been somewhat brisker during the past week, the demand from distant country buyers having been more animated. Prices of desirable styles have been quoted firm. The Boston Commercial Bulletin, of this morning says: "The market for Boots and Shoes continues rather dull, though a few country dealers are engaged in prospecting, and some small lots, sold on consignment, realized better prices than last week. The panic, in other lines of trade, tends to prevent dealers from operating; but when concessions are talked of, the ugly fact touching the cost of production, staring them full in the face, cuts short the argument. The high price of stock, and the difficulty of procuring workmen, have caused most small manufacturers to suspend operations, and the contracts which have been given out for oak-sewed army boots are understood to be at high figures."

COAL—A moderate inquiry prevails for foreign at, however, drooping prices.

COFFEE—Sales, to-day, 70 bags Rio, at 31c., with 125 bags St. Domingo, and 150 bags Jamaica, in bond, on private terms, ₩ lb.

Canadian Flour is unaltered; sales 500 bbls. Extra, at $6 75@$8 25 ₩ bbl. Rye Flour is inquired for, at $3 40@$5 50 for fine and superfine, ₩ bbl. Corn Meal continues in demand at $4 10@$4 15 for Jersey, and $4 75@$4 80 for Brandywine, ₩ bbl.

GRAIN—Wheat continues quiet and depressed. Sales have been confined to 13,700 bushels, including White Western, at $1 80, Red Western, (Winter,) $1 70@$1 72; and Amber Jersey at $1 74@$1 75 ₩ bush. Corn is heavy and drooping. Sales since our last, 54,000 bushels, at 85c.@90c., in store and delivered, for shipping Mixed Western; 80c.@85c. for Eastern do.; 80c.@84c. for Unsound; 93c. for Yellow Jersey ₩ bush. Rye continues quiet, at $1 05@$1 10, according to quality, ₩ bushel. Oats are in less demand, including Canada, at 85c.@86½c. Western at 85c.@87c., State at 86½c.@87c. ₩ bush. Barley is in fair request, at $1 45@$1 57½ ₩ bushel. Sales 4,500 bushels.

HAY—North River has been in fair demand, at 80c.@85c. ₩ 100 lbs.

PROVISIONS—Pork has been purchased to the extent of 600 bbls., in lots, at $13 50@$13 75 for old Mess, $15 50@$15 75 for new Mess, and $13@$13 25 for old and new Prime, ₩ bbl. Cut Meats have been in good demand, at 6¼c.@7¼c. for Hams, and 5c.@6c. for Shoulders, ₩ lb. Bacon has been in fair request at 6¼c.@8¼c. ₩ lb., sales 500 boxes. Lard is doing better; sales 1,200 tcs. and bbls., at 9¾c.@10¼c. ₩ lb. FARMS.

EXECUTOR'S SALE—A VALUABLE FARM AT AUCTION.—The farm belonging to the late Theo. Coles, deceased, will be offered for sale at auction, on WEDNESDAY, April 15, 1863, at 2 o'clock P. M., upon the premises. Said farm is situated about one-half of a mile from the village of Glen Cove, L. I., and two miles from the steamboat landing, from which there is daily communication by steamboat with New-York. The farm contains about 100 acres, about 12 acres of which is woodland, and the balance is in a high state of cultivation. Upon said farm is a thrifty young apple orchard in full bearing; also, a plentiful supply of pears, cherries and small fruits. The buildings consist of a substantial dwelling-house, barn and hovels nearly new, with the usual outbuildings. Few farms are better supplied with water than this. To any person desiring a choice farm, this presents a chance seldom offered. Terms on day of sale. Apply to B. C. MORRIS, Esq., President Columbian Marine Ins. Co., Wall, corner of Nassau-st.; or to WM. M. WEEKS, or the Executor, ISAAC COLES, Glen Cove, L. I.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

A Government dispatch boat arrived at Baltimore, yesterday, from the fleet at Charleston, bringing dispatches for the Government and a special correspondent of the TIMES. We give elsewhere an account of the operations before Charleston, as received by telegraph, and at an early hour this morning we shall publish full details in an extra edition. In the attack on Fort Sumter, our correspondent says the iron-clads met with a repulse, but not with a disaster. The attack was made on the afternoon of the 7th, and continued two hours and a half. The fleet found it impossible to pass inside of Fort Sumter, as had been arranged, on account of obstructions in the channel, and on reaching a point between Sumter and Moultrie, became exposed to a concentric fire from five different points, unparalleled in the history of warfare. This fire the vessels were exposed to for thirty minutes, during which time not less than thirty-five hundred shots were fired by the enemy. Five of the nine iron-clads were then found to be more or less disabled, and the signal was given to retire. Our vessels received each from twenty to ninety shots—the Keokuk being the worst damaged, and sinking the next morning. She was to be blown up, to prevent her falling into the hands of the enemy. The casualties in the fleet were very few.

We have rebel reports from Charleston as late as 10 o'clock in the forenoon of the 9th inst. Up to that time, the bombardment of Fort Sumter, commenced on the 7th, had not been renewed. Our vessels, at last accounts, were still in sight, and it was anticipated that the attack would be renewed on the 10th.

We have this morning Gen. GRANGER'S official report of his recent fight with VAN DORN at Franklin, Tenn., a brief telegraphic announcement of which was published in the TIMES of Saturday. VAN DORN, with a force estimated at 15,000, made the attack at 1 o'clock on Friday, and the fight lasted all the afternoon. Owing to a dense smoke and heavy atmosphere, the enemy approached quite close to our lines before they could be discovered, but our artillery then mowed them down by scores. A diversion at the same time was made by the cavalry under Gen. STANLEY, who succeeded in capturing six pieces of artillery from the enemy, and in taking some two hundred prisoners, but owing to the nature of the country, and the superior numbers of the enemy, he was forced to relinquish a great part of the latter. The rebels were repulsed on all sides, with a loss of about three hundred killed and wounded, and were pursued until dark. Our loss in killed, wounded and prisoners, was less than one hundred.

Rebel reports from Little Washington, N. C., where Gen. FOSTER is besieged by the rebels under HILL, are only to Sunday last. It is stated that two gunboats, followed by several large transports loaded with troops, attempted to run up the Pamlico to reinforce Gen. FOSTER, but were forced to turn back, badly damaged by the rebel batteries—one transport, the Louisiana, being sunk. Gen. FOSTER had refused to surrender, and it was expected the place would be shelled.

A letter received in Boston, from Beaufort, N. C., of April 6, and posted at the Merchants' Exchange, says that the train from Newbern had just arrived, and reports that news had reached there that Gen. FOSTER had been reinforced, and had driven the rebels back from Little Washington. A transport which left Newbern on the 8th, and arrived at Philadelphia on Friday, brought no such cheerful intelligence.

We learn from our Washington correspondent that a correspondence between our Government and that of Great Britain, regarding the Alabama and kindred ships, has culminated in a solemn protest against the proceedings of the English ship-builders, and an intimation that the further fitting out of armed vessels for the rebels will be regarded as unfriendly to the United States.

We have advices from New-Orleans to the evening of the 2d inst., but no news of importance. Nothing new from Baton Rouge or Texas. A list of the casualties on board the gunboat Diana is given elsewhere.

The Navy Department has received information of the capture of five more blockade runners—the British steamer Surprise, by the Huntsville, from St. Marks, Fla., bound to Havana; the rebel schooner Five Brothers, and the English schooner John Williams, by the Octorara, and the English schooners Florence Nightingale and Brothers, by the Tioga.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate, on Saturday, the bill authorizing the consolidation of City railroads was reported favorably; also, the Gravesend Railroad bill; also, the Newtown Double-track Railroad bill; also, the New-York Supervisors' Salary bill, which was tabled; also, the South Bergen Railroad bill; also, the bill amending the Code of Procedure, which was ordered to a third reading; also, the Brooklyn Tunnel Assessment bill, which was ordered to a third reading. The House amendments to the bill appropriating the surplus Canal revenues were non-concurred in.

In the Assembly, the Gold bill, as amended by the Senate, was referred to the Bank Committee, with power to report at any time. Bills were passed establishing and regulating the ferries between New-York and Staten Island, and to promote the reënlistment of volunteers. A large number of bills were reported favorably—among them the one for the defence of New-York harbor, and the one relative to the payment of arrears of taxes and assessments in New-York. The bill establishing a Police Department for the City and County of New-York was reported for the consideration of the House. The Excise bill was also reported for consideration. Concurrent resolutions were adopted to adjourn on the 18th inst.

FROM EUROPE.

By the arrival at this port of the steamship Glasgow and Africa we have advices from Europe to the 28th ult., four days later than by the Europa. The news is important. A debate had taken place in the British House of Commons on the 27th regarding the fitting out of the Alabama, during which Lord PALMERSTON declared that the British Government had done, and would do all in its power to enforce the law; but it could only act on sworn depositions, and not on rumors and suspicions; and he believed that, if they had seized the Alabama, no cause would have been substantiated against her, as she had no armament, whatever might have been the suspicion of her destination. Mr. LAIRD, the builder of the Alabama, maintained that the whole transaction with respect to that vessel was most open and legitimate. Other members, however, took a different view of the matter. Considerable excitement had been occasioned in England by the publication of the circumstances attending the seizure of the Peterhoff, by Admiral WILKES, and Consols fluctuated considerably in consequence, but at last accounts the excitement had subsided, and no fears were entertained that anything unpleasant would occur. No further disturbances had taken place at Stayleybridge, but matters still looked threatening. With regard to the riots there, Sir G. GREY, in the House of Commons on the 27th, stated that he had no doubt the civil and military authorities would have no difficulty in suppressing any attempt to renew the disturbances. He stated that steps were being taken to adapt the machinery of the mills to Indian and other descriptions of cotton. The latest accounts from Poland are confused. A Vienna telegram says that LANGIEWICZ had been set at liberty on parole. He and his followers proceeded to Brunn-Moravia. The violation of the Gallician frontier by the Russians will be considered "as a violation of international law." LANGIEWICZ was expected in Paris. The Liverpool cotton market was firm and unchanged. Breadstuffs and provisions were dull. Consols, 92¾@93 for money. The rebel loan was fluctuating.

GENERAL NEWS.

An immense mass meeting was held in Union-square on Saturday afternoon under the auspices of the Loyal National League—it being the anniversary of the rebel attack upon Fort Sumter. Between twenty and thirty thousand people were present, and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. The populace were addressed from six different stands around the Square, and among the speakers were Maj.-Gen. FREMONT, Maj.-Gen. SIGEL, Postmaster-General BLAIR, Hon. DANIEL S. DICKINSON, Hon. SCHUYLER COLFAX, Senator WILSON of Massachusetts, Judge KELLY and BENJ. H. BREWSTER, of Philadelphia, Col. WOODFORD, Judge PIERREPONT, and others.

The Court of Appeals have unanimously decided against the policemen, who, under Mayor WOOD, years ago, refused to recognize the authority of the Police Commissioners. The decision denies them the pay they sued for while acting thus insubordinately, and compels them to pay the costs of the suits.

On the Stock Exchange on Saturday, Gold Coin advanced to 153 per cent. There was renewed excitement in Harlem shares which rose 8 per cent. The Share list was otherwise dull. Money easy. Exchange unsettled.

Breadstuffs and Provisions were in limited demand on Saturday, at generally unchanged prices. Groceries were in moderate request, as also were Hay, Tallow and Whisky. Fish and Cotton attracted more attention at firmer rates. Most other articles were inactive at irregular quotations. The freight market was dull, with 439 vessels of all class in port.

The Bad Faith of the English Government.

The speeches of the Solicitor-General and of Lord PALMERSTON, which we published in full yesterday, brought by the last steamer, forbid all further doubt that there is a deliberate purpose and a settled plan on the part of the British Cabinet to violate its neutral obligations to this country. Our people should apprehend this distinctly, and our Government should take effective measures against it quickly. The principles announced, and the spirit manifested, make it clear that the Cabinet will do nothing effectually to prevent the completion and the equipment of the fleet of new Confederate war steamers, and its sailing from the British shores; and that the same facilities will afterward be extended to them in British ports, as have given to the Alabama and the Florida such an immense advantage in making havoc of our commerce. Wrong-doing, which many peacefully inclined Americans were at first disposed to consider as mere accident or inconsiderateness arising from the novelty of the situation, now takes the shape of a definite and boldly avowed policy. It must be recognized to be just what it is, and it must be resisted accordingly.

Both of the speakers have the effrontery to hold out that the American mind is so inflamed with passion that it cannot judge the matter coolly and fairly. We believe that history would be searched in vain for another instance of so little passion on the part of a great people under such aggravated wrongs. But whether this be so or not, all human experience testifies that interest perverts the judgment quite as much as passion. It is certain that the Government of England is controlled by the commercial and the aristocratic classes. It is certain that the commercial classes are prodigiously interested in breaking down our commercial rivalry, which their encouragement of Confederate privateering effectually accomplishes. It is certain that the aristocratic classes are prodigiously interested in breaking down our Republican system, which this encouragement of Confederate privateering potently furthers. These airs, therefore, on the part of the spokesmen of the English Government about superior impartiality of judgment are entirely out of place.

Fortunately for us, the justice of our view of the case does not depend upon any subtle distinctions. It rests broadly upon well-established principles, which the American Government has always recognized and acted upon.

The English Ministry try to hedge themselves in this corner: That international law does not preclude the building of vessels and supply of arms by a neutral for a belligerent—that municipal law alone takes cognizance of this—that it is nearly or quite impossible to establish beyond legal doubt the real destination of the new ships, and that consequently the municipal law cannot be executed.

The Solicitor-General declares there would be little trouble about the matter "if the minds of the people of the United States could be relieved from the prejudice that these things are against international law." It will be long, probably, before we shall be relieved of that prejudice, for we have had it from our first history, and felt bound to apply it even in favor of the hated England of that day. Our first municipal law upon the subject was not enacted until 1794; but in the year previous, April, 1793, President WASHINGTON issued his proclamation "against all persons who shall, within the cognizance of the Courts of the United States, violate the law of nations with respect to the Powers at war." Those Powers at war were England and France, the sympathies of the great body of the people being with France. The Secretary of the Treasury, ALEXANDER HAMILTON, at once issued instructions to the collectors of the customs, enjoining "the greatest vigilance, care, activity and impartiality in preventing all fitting out of vessels, expeditions or men for the aid of either party. Many seizures of ships, intended to be used as French privateers, were made in pursuance of those instructions. What is even more important, President WASHINGTON considered it incumbent on the United States to make compensation to English merchants for the damage done by privateering vessels which escaped, and it was so made, though involving a large sum—all this, too, under the law of nations, without a syllable of municipal law on the subject. The Queen's Proclamation at the commencement of the present rebellion expressly recognized that these acts came within the scope of the law of nations. In its first paragraph it warned against "violating or contravening either the laws and statutes of the realm in behalf of neutrality, or the law of nations in relation thereto." Her Majesty's subjects, then, have duties under the law of nations, in this matter of neutrality, as acknowledged by the Queen. With what face then can those Ministers of the Queen, at this late day, stand up and maintain, as they do, that it is all a matter of internal municipal law, with the administration of which the United States Government has nothing to do? Their object is palpable enough. If this equipment of Confederate privateers is against municipal law only, the prosecutions must take the strict legal line of action, with all its technicalities and delays, and the Government is not responsible for the result. If it is against international law, the Government has a right, and is bound, to interpose at once; and if it fails, either with or without good vigilance, it must make indemnity for all consequent losses.

The municipal laws impose no new obligations of neutrality as between nations. We have not a solitary legal claim upon English non-interference now, that we did not have before its neutrality statute of 1819. Our Government has nothing to do with Parliamentary statutes of any sort. Nor has England anything to do with our Congressional statutes on the same subject—those of 1794, 1818 and 1838. Those statutes have all been framed for the sole object of better enabling this Government to protect itself against the misdeeds of its people, for which other nations might justly call it to account. It is vain then for Lord PALMERSTON to descant, as he does, upon the restrictions of British municipal law, and to throw out his miserable sneers that England is a country where the letter of the law is respected. We trust that Mr. ADAMS will not make the mistake of discussing the subject on that ground at all. The high ground—the ground of WASHINGTON and HAMILTON—of the essential illegality of this fitting out of vessels against a neutral, under the law of nations, is solid and impregnable. If he descends from that, to make any claims or appeals on the strength of the British neutrality act, he yields his true position, and will quickly find himself in "wandering mazes lost."

It is true, that on the ground of international comity, representations are sometimes made for the amendment or better enforcement of municipal law. It was on the representations of the Ministers of Great Britain, France and Spain, at the time of the war of the latter with her South American provinces, that President MADISON sent his special message to Congress, recommending "such further legislative provisions as may be requisite for detaining vessels actually equipped, or in a course of equipment with a militia force, within the jurisdiction of the United States," from which recommendation resulted the Neutrality act of 1818. In like manner, at the outbreak of the Canadian rebellion, President VAN BUREN sent in his special message, stating that "the laws in force provide sufficient penalties for the punishment of breaches of neutrality, after they have been committed, and provided the parties can be found; but the Executive is powerless, in many cases, to prevent the commission of them"—and recommending additional enactments, giving greater power to the Executive, from which recommendation came the Neutrality law of 1838. But it is useless to hope for any such comity on the part of England. Lord PALMERSTON not only declares that the Ministry "has done everything, with respect to the Foreign Enlistment act, which the law enabled and authorized us to do," but he closes his speech by saying that "the people and the Government of the United States must not imagine that the cry raised will induce us to come down to this House to alter the law." We may as well understand at once that England will exercise no comity; and in self-respect we must make no claim or appeal except on the ground of naked right. But that right we should unqualifiedly assert, and unflinchingly maintain.

EDWARD EVERETT'S UNION SPEECH.—Will not some of our Loyal Leagues do the public the favor, and the Union cause the service, of securing the repetition, in this City, by EDWARD EVERETT, of the splendid address which he recently made in Boston on the rebellion? It is one of the finest efforts of this master of eloquence, and would be heard with delight by as many of our citizens as our largest hall could hold. Mr. EVERETT'S efforts on behalf of the Union during the past few years merit the grateful acknowledgments of the whole country. Not only the fervor of his patriotism, but the strength of his intellect and the eloquence of his tongue seem to increase with his years. The abundant record of his fruitful life shows no finer orations than those he has pronounced since this war began. In one most important department of this great discussion—wide and accurate knowledge of the precedents and events of history—he is beyond comparison at the head of all American statesmen, and in all his speeches he makes most admirable and effective use of this great advantage. We trust we shall have an opportunity to hear his latest address in this City.

The Naval Attack on Fort Sumter.

We are enabled to give, this morning, (by telegraph from Baltimore,) the main facts, in brief, of the attack on Fort Sumter by our iron-clads, on Tuesday last. They are furnished by our Special Correspondent, ("W. S.,") who was with Admiral DUPONT at the battle, and who returns North, with official dispatches for the Government, and a detailed account of the action and its results for the TIMES. We had hoped to get the letter in season for our first edition of this morning, but it has not arrived up to 2 o'clock. Our correspondent has taken an Express Train from Baltimore to this City, and we hope to get his account before daylight, when we shall immediately issue an extra edition, which will be ready for circulation shortly after breakfast time.

Our correspondent characterizes the attack as a "repulse but not a disaster." It was a terrible cannonade of two hours' duration, and the Monitors withstood a concentric fire from the rebel forts and batteries for thirty minutes. Over 3,500 shots were fired at them in these two hours, and 160 shots were counted in one minute. It seems that, after all, this may be regarded in the light of a naval reconnoissance; and that those of the Monitors which were damaged can soon be repaired, and put in readiness to go at it again. But until we get the details from an authentic pen, speculation is useless; and these we hope to furnish immediately.

Slidell on Davis as a Repudiator.

JOHN SLIDELL rises to the sublimity of assurance in his note from Paris to London to the effect that JEFFERSON DAVIS is not a Mississippi repudiator. Like all political gamesters, SLIDELL takes for granted that the end—which, in this instance, is to bolster the waning prospects of the Confederate Cotton Loan—justifies the means. He acted upon this when he planned and successfully executed the Plaquemines fraud in 1844 to cheat Mr. CLAY out of the electoral vote of Louisiana. He acted upon it when he left his seat in the United States Senate, in 1861, without instructions from his State, and then forced the State, by another fraudulent election, like that of Plaquemines, to join the rebellion. But SLIDELL, while thoroughly corrupt and unscrupulous, is not an ignorant man, in any sense, and least of all on the party politics of the South. He knows JEFFERSON DAVIS to be a Repudiator, as the whole country has known it for twenty years. In his anxiety to impose the fraudulent Cotton Loan on the Old World, however, he assumed that England and Holland, who suffered the whole loss of the Mississippi Union Bank fraud, and hold two millions of Mississippi Planters' Bank obligations, were or might be ignorant of the fact.

His note appeared in the London Times of March 28, with a qualified notice that there might be some mistake about the DAVIS in question. It might be Reuben and not Jefferson, though the editor inclines to fear it was the latter, when a very young man—subject to the seductions of the older repudiators! By an unfortunate slip in his note about the illegality of the Union Bank Bonds, Mr. SLIDELL brings back the Times of the 26th of March upon the subject, and the whole history of the negotiation is laid bare, and the insulting reference of JEFFERSON DAVIS to it in the United States Senate, when he was not a very young man, again commented upon, though with the expression of the hope that, in the present maturity of his experience—that is, while seeking money in England to prosecute his treason to his Government—his opinion would be very different from what it was twelve years ago, when insulting the "crocodile tears" of the English and Dutch creditors of Mississippi in the United States Senate.

This is the first evidence of a forgiving disposition on the part of the London Times in the matter of American repudiation, in which terms the financial writer for that paper has uniformly included the whole country, because Mississippi forms a portion of it. All the States, for twenty-five years, have been made to suffer for the sins of this erring and guilty "sister." Even the credit of the General Government has been denied its proper status on the London Exchange, after twice extinguishing its National Debt, and never failing in the uniform payment of its interest in Gold and Silver, because the Federal power had not compelled JEFFERSON DAVIS and his State to be honest. But the present hope of repentance and reform in this Mississippi repudiation is destined to blight and a costly disappointment. The Union Bank negotiation was an honest debt; so acknowledged by the Mississippi Legislature after the first recommendation of Gov. McNUTT to repudiate it. The fraud was, in its subsequent repudiation, in spite of the honest and indignant declarations of the Legislature, whose members were overwhelmed at the next popular election under the leadership of such men as McNUTT, ALBERT G. BROWN, JEFFERSON DAVIS and others. The Cotton loan, on the other hand, is a fraud to begin with. Its repudiation will follow with as much certainty and as easy a conscience as the misrepresentation under which it is now imposed upon the credulous sympathizers with rebellion in England.

The political or party history of the State of Mississippi for twelve or fourteen years, dating from 1841, we need scarcely add, was the history of her repudiation, and the struggles of the Bond-paying and debt-acknowledging party of the State, to remove that foulest of all blots from her escutcheon. The question was made by the repudiators in every election, legislative, congressional and gubernatorial. And during this period, JEFFERSON DAVIS ran and was elected on their ticket for State Senator, Representative in Congress, Governor and United States Senator. It was in the last position that he gave the insult to the defrauded foreign bondholders of his State, which the London Times has never forgotten, and to which President PIERCE and the whole country were held to account in England, on the occasion of the appointment of DAVIS to the Cabinet.

About this time an appeal to one of the high Courts of Mississippi was presented by certain holders of Union Bank obligations. It directly involved the legal and constitutional validity of the original negotiation, by which the State advanced her Bonds to the Bank, to be sold, as they were sold, for the relief of the people. A learned and upright Judge affirmed the duty of payment, and for this righteous act was beaten for reëlection, the following year, by the party of JEFFERSON DAVIS. And here the question has rested ever since.

The London Times utters that which is grossly unjust in assuming that DAVIS and his repudiation were tolerated at the North until he turned traitor to his Government. There was as much, if not more said, in condemnation of the act of repudiation, and of the direct concern of DAVIS with it, before than since the rebellion, as our own columns, for ten years past, will bear witness. The act was never tolerated in any right sense, North or South, outside of Mississippi, until the rebellion. What may be the indulgent sentiments of the other rebel States at present, we shall not undertake nor are we called upon to say.

The Reuben DAVIS, who is made the scapegoat of repudiation by JOHN SLIDELL, is not a man of straw, and may have sins of his own to answer for on the subject. But there is no mistaking this North Mississippi small-beer politician for the Great Repudiator. He was scarcely known to public life when the question was at its zenith. He led a volunteer regiment into Mexico, as his more illustrious namesake did, and for this was subsequently sent to Congress. But he never led the Anti-Bond-paying party into open and scandalous repudiation, and his State into disgrace thereby, and JOHN SLIDELL knew when he penned his note that he was not the man. He lied deliberately and consciously, for the purpose of robbing credulous capitalists for the benefit of the rebellion.

EX-MAYOR WOOD REPUDIATED.—The Leader, which has always been the recognized organ of the Tammany Hall Democracy, but which was one of the most zealous in welcoming FERNANDO WOOD to the leadership of the united Democracy last Fall, now throws him overboard with great emphasis and very little ceremony. His recent peace speech is distinctly and unequivocally repudiated. It is characterized as an attempt on Mr. WOOD'S part to "subvert the regular Democratic platform and substitute for it a miserable creation of his own." He is irreverently spoken of as a "restless and ambitious demagogue," as being "cursed with a prurient itch for oratory and public attention," and is informed that "his attempt to thrust his nostrums down the throat of the party are impotent and absurd."

It is pretty clear that FERNANDO overshot the mark in his recent speech. He may have found it necessary to go a little beyond the lines of his party, in order to maintain for himself a position of independent influence; but it looks now as if his independence would become isolation. The great mass of the Democratic party is by no means ready either for surrender to the rebels or for a division of the Union. In common with the great body of the American people, they are for ending the war by fighting it through. And FERNANDO must come into that movement, or he will find himself in a very powerless and contemptible minority.

PEACE MEN IN WAR.—Our neighbor, the World, says that, "provided his course does not tend to put his country at the mercy of the enemy, a peace man in war time may be just as good a patriot as a war man. England never had better patriots than Lord CHATHAM and Mr. BURKE; but these great statesmen were vehement in their opposition to the American war." And yet this same patriot CHATHAM rose from his dying bed to protest in his place in Parliament against peace with the American rebellion as an ignominious surrender of the rights and present possessions of the nation. We wish our cotemporary had more of the national spirit of the man it so justly praises.

Irish Relief Fund Ball.

To-morrow night, at the Academy of Music, a grand ball will be given in aid of the Irish Relief Fund. Great preparations are made for a salutory demonstration of unusual attraction, and already several hundreds of tickets have been sold. The Board of Managers includes the names of many of our best known and most influential citizens, who appeal to the sympathies of our community in behalf of the suffering poor of Ireland, from whom come in every steamer the most piteous petitions for assistance. Without a doubt, the affair will be a grand success; the cause is most worthy, the managers efficient, and the public ready, as at all times, to generously respond.

Arrival of Another Prize.

The British schooner Rising Dawn—prize—of Prince Edward Island, Master's Mate GEO. W. RUSSELL in charge, from Wilmington Bar 7 days, arrived last night. She was captured, March 25, off Wilmington, N. C., by the United States steamer Monticello, while attempting to run the blockade at that place. Was from Nassau, N. P., with a cargo of salt.

Arrival of the North American at Portland.

PORTLAND, Sunday, April 12.

The North American, Capt. DUTTON, arrived here at 8 o'clock Saturday evening. Purser TAYLOR reports, April 8, lat. 43°, lon. 50°, passed ship Malta bound west.

The North American brings 234 passengers, among whom are Capt. REUBEN KALLECH, Capt. H. A. SWIFT, Capt. JAMES S. COOPER and Capt. O. H. LEALAND, whose ships were destroyed by the Alabama.

The Nova Scotian sailed at 8 o'clock Sunday morning.

THE CRISIS PAST—ANOTHER VIEW.

Personal—The Tide of the Past's—The Reluctant Past and Passing—Butler and Lincoln on the Times—The Future Looking up Brightly.

THE BERKSHIRE, Tuesday, April 7, 1863.

Dark clouds have passed over me since last I wrote; and now I am writing under a shadow which no time can take away. But I cannot forget my country—I cannot cease to feel that in comparison with her ten thousand such as I am are of little consequence. My kindred have served their country from the wars of King PHILIP to the present hour, and but a little while ago one good and brave fell in the battle of Antietam, honored and lamented by friends, kindred and countrymen. What did they fight for? Why did they land on the bleak and barren strand, to war with the savage? Why did they rear colonies in the wilderness? Why did they bear aloft the flag of the Revolution? Why did they enter the field a second time against haughty Britain? And why do they now crimson the earth with blood, shed in battle against rebellion? Was it not to secure freedom? To build up a city of refuge for the oppressed, flying from the tyranny of Stuarts and Bourbons, and from institutions which made the poor but hewers of wood and drawers of water to the taskmasters of the world? Is there any other country where they can take refuge? If, then, we let this country be weakened or destroyed by rebellion, the world has lost its refuge, and the hope of mankind is gone. I cannot forget this. The taskmasters of the world do not forget it. When this country is shorn of its power, they will shout with a joy unspeakable. Even now, you know, men who are seemingly the best of Christians, who have freedom always on their lips, in the British Government and aristocracy, are rejoicing that some disastrous events may weaken and humiliate this country. But they rejoice in vain.

I say, again, THE CRISIS IS PAST, and the day of glory is coming. You may think me sanguine, but have I ever once been mistaken in any positive assertion in my long correspondence? I think not one. One of the most uncertain or doubtful things I have said was that the Administration would have a majority in the next Congress, and a large war majority. You see now that it will be exactly so. I never believed a moment that the peace Democracy would have a majority in the Border States, and they will not. Missouri has beaten them, and Kentucky will do so if necessary. These States are no longer under the lead of men who think Slavery necessary to the salvation of mankind. These States have been tried in the furnace and they have bought the truth high priced, and they will keep it. Henceforward the novi homines, the men who have come up from the ranks, will take command.

But, again, if more was needed, you hear the voice of the people coming from hill and dale in tones which no man can mistake. I, who sometimes read history, and who have seen a good deal of history made, never once doubted how the people would go when treason, (for your sympathizers with the South and Slavery are nothing but traitors,) once reared its head among them. But the politicians did not understand it. Politicians of all classes thought there was something real in last Fall's elections. The only real thing was, that the public never suspected that such a thing as a Copperhead would dare to raise its head, much less that the leaders of the Democratic party would dream of putting its organization on such a ruinous foundation. When they did find it out they shook the traitors off, as the lion shakes the dew-drop from his mane. They have been compelled to put up candidates in the West, who were ostensibly for the war, but even that could not save them. The people will no longer trust any man who is found in the company of such detestable creatures as WOOD, VALLANDIGHAM, VOORHEES, & Co. These men have signed the death warrant of their party; and henceforward the young Democracy must either make a new organization, or, what is better, go—at least now—with that great patriotic party of the people, who go for their country first, last and forever. The elections in Connecticut and Rhode Island are scarcely more important than the town elections of the West. All last Fall's results are reversed. Cincinnati, St. Louis, Chillicothe, and numbers of the large towns, as well as a great majority of all towns, have gone, (as the telegraph informs you,) for the Union party—no, not a party—for the country; and, let me add two facts, under the surface—all these men are for the war to the last point of subjugation, and most of them thorough radicals. Gen. BUTLER utters their sentiments exactly: "When we next build our house of the Constitution we shall build it with all the modern improvements." And so I rejoice that the crisis is past; and though we may move through blood, we shall move straight on till this Government is restored over every foot of territory, and this home of refuge for the nations be placed where the enemies of human freedom can no longer put safety in doubt.

One of the most curious things in this whole war, is the strange delusions which have at times come over the nation and the Administration. I early pointed out the utter fallacy of the Cotton Kingdom, and the folly of expecting Foreign intervention. If Russia and the United States—an event which might readily happen—should deliberately cut off the exports of breadstuffs, what would England and France do? The loss of cotton would be nothing to it. Starvation would come to every English operative, and all the navies of the world could not help them. Europe will not intervene against us,—but may we not intervene with Europe? You start back. Do not start at what I say; but read history,—and then look at the Great Future, and those foreshadowing clouds, which even now rise above the horizon.

But some of the most remarkable delusions we have had, have come over the Administration. I shall not harm it any by mentioning one or two. The Committee on the Conduct of the War is out with their budget. Now, when the detailed testimony is laid before the public, do you think the world will have seen a greater delusion than that which trusted Mr. GEORGE B. MCCLELLAN with the command of the American army? Do you think there ever was before such patient endurance with stupidity? Let it pass. The evil is done, and history will do justice to the actors. But let me come to another, which is just before our eyes, and just going on. Was there ever such a military delusion as that which, for nearly two years, has neglected to take possession of East Tennessee? It was the key of Virginia, of Tennessee, and of Georgia. It was on the road to Richmond (and the best road) and the road to Vicksburgh, and a single corps of the army would have captured and held it any time. Yet it is not done, and ROSECRANS and HOOKER must force their way with immense armies, because this single strand-cord, which united the rebel wings, is not cut. But we cannot compel fate. We understand now that there is an immense difference between military science and military genius.

I thank you for the TIMES which contained BUTLER'S speech. It strikes the notes of both sense and patriotism. I have read but two great speeches in several years. The first was ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S, in Cooper Institute, expounding clearly every political idea involved in this controversy. The second was BUTLER'S, clearly expounding every idea coming out of the war. The South are alien enemies, and their lives and property are forfeited by the laws of war. BUTLER is right; and let us hear no more about peace till they have laid down their arms in absolute submission.

A VETERAN OBSERVER.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL WASHINGTON DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, April 12.

THE NEXT HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The Tribune's list of the members of the House of Representatives in the next Congress, classifies the friends of the Administration as Republicans, and its opponents as Democrats. Among the former, however, are quite a considerable number who have not hesitated to utter the strongest disapproval of the teaching and the leadership of such men as VALLANDIGHAM, FERNANDO WOOD, PENDLETON, BEN. WOOD and COX. In the Republican column, on the other hand, Mr. GREELEY has placed the names of members who were elected by War Democrats as "Union candidates."

I affirm that no Democratic caucus in the Capitol can hold the New-York Representatives, [illegible], CORNING, ODELL, [illegible], the Pennsylvanians BAILEY, [illegible], MCALLISTER and STEWART, of Illinois—no, nor even ENGLISH of Connecticut. Assuming that the Tribune's figures are correct, and that we have 86 Administration members to 74 Opposition, if we carry Vermont with her three members, California with her three, and West Virginia with her three, all of which we are reasonably sure of, the Government vote in the House, as footed up by Mr. GREELEY, is increased to 94.

But suppose that we lose every one of the ten members in Kentucky. This impossible misfortune would make the Opposition vote in the House 83. Concede the more impossible loss of the six Maryland members. FERNANDO WOOD'S vote would then sum up 89—and yet we should hold the House by a decided working majority. But we must, and we will carry, at least, two members in Baltimore—one in the Maryland Frederick District, and one in the Cecil District. I will venture to add these four members to the Tribune's column of Administration Representatives. At this hour of the night I cannot lay my hand on the new apportionment—but it will not substantially vary the above figures.

In many quarters apprehensions have been expressed that bogus applicants for seats in the next House would crowd up to the Clerk's desk with their credentials. Neither a caucus, nor the regular session, can be vexed in this way. The last House, full of virtue as full of patriotism, in its last hours, passed a law restricting its Clerk in the exercise of his discretion in selecting the names of the sitting members from the list of the contesting candidates. Its provisions are these:

AN ACT TO REGULATE THE DUTIES OF THE CLERK OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES IN PREPARING FOR THE ORGANIZATION OF THE HOUSE.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That before the first meeting of the next Congress, and of every subsequent Congress, the Clerk of the next preceding House of Representatives shall make a roll of the representatives elect, and place thereon the names of all persons, and of such persons only, whose credentials show that they were regularly elected in accordance with the laws of their States, respectively, or the laws of the United States.

Passed the House of Representatives March 3, 1863.
Attest, EM. ETHERIDGE, Clerk.
Approved March 3, 1863.

I cannot forbear to express in this connection the regret felt by the true supporters of the Administration that the bill authorizing the election of Representatives from Louisiana and Tennessee failed. I confess to a one-sided partiality to a civil execution of electoral law. Now, however, (and there is large consolation in it, and would be larger under BEN BUTLER and Governors of his kidney,) this whole business of electing Congressmen from States where the ballot-boxes are surrounded at once by rebel voters and National bayonets, will have to be regulated by military authority, subject subsequently to the revision of the House of Representatives. The country has a guarantee of pure results of such extraordinary canvasses, in the conduct of the Election Committee on the last House. It rejected the claim of every applicant from the States in rebellion who could not show the clearly expressed and free will of his constituency that he should represent them in the Congress of the National Union.

IMPORTANT CORRESPONDENCE WITH THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT.

A correspondence between our own Government and the British has been going on for several weeks, touching and concerning the pirate Alabama and sister ships of a predatory character. This correspondence has culminated in an intimation that the fitting out of more armed vessels in British ports to prey upon our commerce would be regarded as an unfriendly act toward the United States, and the explicit information that under the instructions of the President, the Secretary of State had to enter a solemn protest against this business. Practical and wise, however, the Secretary, alluding to the fact that a large number of ships were building for rebel account in English yards, offered to become their purchaser at contract or other prices.

REMOVAL OF THE MINNESOTA INDIANS.

The removal of the Winnebago and Sioux tribes of Indians from Minnesota will be commenced immediately by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. The Sioux will be removed from Fort Snelling, where they are now held under military surveillance, to a tract of land in the vicinity of Fort Randall, on the Upper Missouri, several hundred miles distant from any considerable settlements of the whites. The Winnebagoes, who have generally been peaceful in their intercourse with the whites, will be removed to an adjoining tract. To induce them to abandon their roving habits, and to engage in agricultural pursuits, the Government has decided to furnish them, in their new homes, with agricultural implements, cattle, and other necessary articles. The Indians to be removed number about four thousand.

The Minnesota Indians under conviction are to be removed from the State. The President has decided to stay the further execution of the poor wretches.

PAYING THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

Within the past two days, nine Paymasters have left here for the Army of the Potomac, carrying with them about three million dollars to pay the troops. The payment of the whole army, it is thought, will be completed during the ensuing week. All of the troops in the several Western armies have been paid, with the exception of a few scattered regiments in Kentucky. Funds have been forwarded for the payment of the forces in North Carolina, South Carolina and Louisiana.

DESERVED PROMOTION.

Capt. FREEMAN MCGILVERY, formerly of the Sixth Maine Battery, has been promoted to a Majorship in the artillery, and is assigned to the command of the artillery for the defences of Aquia Landing, Aquia Creek and Potomac Railroad bridges. Capt. MCGILVERY fairly earned promotion by gallantry in the sanguinary battles at Cedar Mountain, Centreville, Gainesville, Bull Run and Chantilly. At Cedar Mountain he saved our left wing from annihilation by the enemy, and at Bull Run and Chantilly protected alone our retreat.

BLOCKADE RUNNERS CAPTURED.

A party of blockade runners were captured on Friday night, by some of Col. BAKER'S detectives, near Leonardstown, on the Lower Potomac, and their stock of goods seized. The goods, consisting of quinine, boots, shoes, &c., and valued at about $8,000, have been confiscated. The contrabandists were committed to the Old Capitol Prison.

DEATH OF COL. BOWDITCH.

Gentlemen arriving to-day from Suffolk report the death of Col. BOWDITCH, of Vermont, formerly Collector of Burlington. He was killed by a locomotive falling through an open drawbridge.

RESIGNATIONS AND DISCHARGES OF MEDICAL OFFICERS.

The resignations of Surgeons THOMAS G. [illegible] and WM. H. [illegible], U. S. Volunteers, have been accepted by the President, both to date from April 7. The following officers having tendered their resignations, have been honorably discharged the service: Surgeon R. M. JACKSON, Eleventh Pennsylvania Volunteers, to date April 1. Assistant-Surgeon A. C. BENEDICT, First New-York Volunteers, to date April 1.

APPOINTMENT.

Hon. L. H. CHANDLER, of Portsmouth, Va., now United States Consul at Matanzas, has been appointed United States District Attorney for the Eastern District of Virginia.

GUERRILLAS CAPTURED.

Four of MOSBY'S guerrillas, with their horses, were captured yesterday by our forces in the front.

DEATHS OF SOLDIERS.

The following are among the deaths of soldiers reported to-day:

Mark [illegible], Co. E, 144th New-York.
A. M. [illegible], Co. K, 11th New-Hampshire.
John Greele, Co. H, 11th New-Hampshire.
Peter Martin, Co. K, 115th New-York.

AMUSEMENTS.

The farewell of Madame MEDORI draws nigh, but prior to that regretful period we are promised an ample supply of her delicious vocalism. To-night, the brilliantly successful opera "Ione," which has drawn crowded houses at every rendition, will be given for the last time, with MEDORI, SULZER, [illegible], BELLINI and BIACHI in their original rôles. On Wednesday, Mr. MARETZEK, the efficient manager, takes his benefit, which, we trust, will be a bumper, on which occasion will be produced, for the first and only time, "I Due Foscari." On Friday night, the farewell of Madame MEDORI, will be signalized by the reproduction of "Norma," in which opera she has created the greatest sensation.

At Wallack's Theatre the newly presented comedy of "My Noble Son-in-Law" will be given to-night for the fifth time, and will alternate during the week with the standard favorites at this establishment, viz.: the old and older comedies.

At Winter Garden, where for two weeks Miss LUCILLE WESTERN has been charming crowded houses with her rendition of Edith and her version of "East Lynne," a change of bill is announced, Miss WESTERN sustaining the character of Thisbe in the "Actress of Padua." This night is set apart for the benefit of this favorite actress, and a bill of extraordinary attraction is presented. In consequence of the success of "East Lynne," Mr. JOHN S. CLARKE will not at present play at this theatre, Miss WESTERN'S engagement being extended another fortnight.

At Niblo's Miss HERON'S "Edith" is withdrawn to make room for her "Camille." It matters little what attraction is offered at this house, it is always crowded, and its successful career is proverbial.

Miss LAURA KEENE, who has been seriously indisposed, and who has been playing a farewell engagement by her beautiful proxy, Miss ROSE EYTINGE, has recovered, and will to-night resume her rôle of Nellie, in the drama of "Bantry Bay."

The Wild Indians still remain under the cheerful impression that they are the guests of the City, that BARNUM is the Great Mogul, and the Museum his palace. They are the genuine animal, and no mistake. Paint, feathers and trinkets cover their exterior; but their interior is, metaphorically speaking, filled with dead men's bones. They are a hard set, and, if BARNUM is permitted to remain unscalped, he will do well. The several millions of curiosities, drummer boys, Albinos and What-is-its remain as usual, and can all be seen for a modest quarter.

GERMAN OPERA IN BROOKLYN.—Encouraged by the success which attended his first season in Brooklyn, Mr. ANSCHUTZ announces a second with the old favorites in the several casts. To-night BEETHOVEN'S grand "Fidelio" will be given with Mme. JOHANNSEN in the cast. On Wednesday night, the ever-popular "Martha," which never fails to crowd the house, will be given with an immense cast.

☞ KNOX, the Hatter, has sent in his check, $100, to the Irish Relief Fund.

OF INTEREST TO LADIES.—Every one regards the Sewing Machine as a blessing to women. It has been a saving of much toil, misery, and probably of life itself. The "Song of the Shirt," is now obsolete; the more enlivening ballad, "The Song of the Sewing Machine," has taken its place. We had heard, through our lady friends, of machines that would stitch, sew, hem, and one of them that could make a perfect button-hole in a garment. We had supposed that perfection had almost been reached, knowing that these instruments performed all the necessities in sewing. But it seems they still had the "accomplishments" to learn. We are led to make these remarks, having recently seen some ladies' cloaks elaborately embroidered with this Sewing Machine. The work seemed to excel anything executed by hand labor. Beside being more rapidly and cheaply executed, the work has a more regular and consequently a much more beautiful appearance. What is most remarkable about this novelty is that the machine which executes this wonderful workmanship is the most perfect in all other respects—the embroidering quality being only an addition to its many other abilities of stitching, hemming, &c. Those of our lady readers who wish to view the instrument engaged in its charming accomplishment, can do so by stepping into Messrs. GROVER & BAKER'S establishment, No. 495 Broadway.—Home Journal.

Premature Loss of the Hair, which is so common now-a-days, may be entirely prevented by the use of BURNETT'S COCOAINE. It has been used in thousands of cases where the hair was coming out in handfuls, and has never failed to arrest its decay, and to promote a healthy and vigorous growth. It is at the same time unrivaled as a dressing for the hair. A single application will render it soft and glossy for several days. Prepared by JOSEPH BURNETT & CO., Boston.

Chloasma, or Moth Patches.

Blemishes on the face, called Moth, are very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, as the discolored spots on the skin show more strongly on blondes than on brunettes, but they contribute greatly in marring the beauty on either, and anything that will remove Moth Patches without injuring the skin in texture or color, would no doubt be considered a great achievement in medical science. Dr. B. C. PERRY, No. 49 Bond-st., having devoted his whole time and attention to Diseases of the Skin, will guarantee to remove Moth Patches, Freckles and other discolorations from the face without injury to either texture or color of the skin. His success in this, as in other branches of his specialty—Diseases of the Scalp and Loss of Hair—will warrant him in guaranteeing a Cure in every case. Dr. B. C. PERRY,

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

CARD FROM JOHN MOFFAT.

JOHN MOFFAT & CO.'S
PRINCIPAL OFFICE, No. 33 East 17th-st.,
NEW-YORK, April 10, 1863.

A CARD.—JOHN MOFFAT & CO. beg to inform the trade and the public that they have nothing to do with the manufacture or sale of any other medicines than those now universally known as "JOHN MOFFAT & CO.'S GENUINE VEGETABLE LIFE PILLS," and "JOHN MOFFAT & CO.'S GENUINE PHŒNIX BITTERS;" that no other medicines like them are now manufactured and sold anywhere, and that an attempt to place an INJUNCTION upon their business has only been done in order to produce litigation; that there is not a shadow of foundation in law or fact for any restraint upon the manufacture and sale of the above medicines, and that the proprietors will soon be prepared to supply the great demand for the articles, without being subjected to litigation through ex parte statements and affidavits.

DEAFNESS
NOISES IN THE HEAD,
Diseases of the Eye, Ear & Throat,
CATARRH CURED
BY
DR. VON EISENBERG.

From the Journal of Commerce.

EXCITING NEWS FOR THE DEAF.—An instrument called Dr. Von Eisenberg's Air Passage Expander and Regulator, a gigantic machine, weighing nearly five hundred pounds, about five feet in height, a most wonderful apparatus for restoring sight and hearing, has just arrived for Dr. Von Eisenberg, the celebrated Oculist and Aurist, and will be on exhibition at the Doctor's office, No. 816 Broadway, for a few days previous to its use. The instrument is constructed decidedly on the most scientific principles. To give a detailed description would require a greater space than we can now spare. Our Oculist and Aurist seems to do everything in the line of his profession on a gigantic scale. The new instrument for restoring hearing to the deaf and sight to the blind is so constructed that it cannot fail to open the most obstructed air passages. His new consulting rooms, No. 816 Broadway, are correspondingly magnificent, and his practice as Aurist and Oculist large and eminently successful.

From the New-York Evening Express, Feb. 14, 1863.

SENSATION AMONG THE DEAF.—The unrivaled skill of Dr. Von Eisenberg, the far-famed Oculist and Aurist, of No. 816 Broadway, has made quite a sensation among the Deaf and Blind by his wonderful cures, which attract the Deaf, Blind and those suffering from Chronic Catarrh, from all parts of the Union to his office. The number of his certificates of really wonderful cures swell daily. For the benefit of sufferers, we subjoin the following, which requires no comment:

NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.
JOHN TAYLOR,
No. 12 Livingston-st., Brooklyn.

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.
CARROLL J. POST, No. 26 South-st.

No. 186 [illegible]-st., NEW-YORK.

J. E. VON EISENBERG, M. D.—Dear Doctor: I have been afflicted with total deafness, and was induced to pay you a visit. No one can imagine my delight when, after one operation, my hearing was suddenly, and without pain, restored to me, for which I feel very grateful. After being totally deaf—almost shut out from the pleasure of using so necessary a sense—to have it returned, and to hear so distinctly, reflects great credit on you for the immense amount of skill you possess. I beg to thank you for what I can so truly appreciate. I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
EDWARD TEMPLE HARRISON.

NEW-YORK, Nov. 5, 1862.

DR. VON EISENBERG—Dear Sir: Before taking leave of you, after your most successful operation on my ear, allow me to express my sincere thanks that, by your scientific surgical performance, I am enabled to hear distinctly, and enjoy a pleasure of which I have long been deprived over a year. May you be rewarded by being enabled to perform many similar, to benefit other sufferers, and to your own gratification.

Allow me to present my kindest regards, and assure you of my grateful remembrance. Respectfully,
A. McDONALD REYNOLDS,
Captain Marines, United States.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.
READ
NEW-YORK, March 20, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up, accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown to my entire satisfaction a knowledge which is beyond that of any physician I ever saw. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."
FREDERICK WEBER, No. 338 4th-st.

PEREMPTORY SALE OF AN ELEGANT COUNTRY SEAT TO CLOSE AN ESTATE.

EDWARD H. LUDLOW & CO., Auctioneers, by order of WILLIAM H. ASPINWALL, Executor,
Will sell at public auction, at the
MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE SALESROOMS,
No. 111 Broadway, New-York,
ON WEDNESDAY, APRIL 15, 1863,
At 12 o'clock M.

The estate known as NETHERWOOD, formerly the residence of the late Gardiner G. Howland, situate on the Hudson River, between New-Hamburgh and Poughkeepsie, containing 250 acres, with a river front of a mile, and embracing five building sites, each with extensive and beautiful views of land and water.

There are on the premises a mansion house, a cottage dwelling, gardener's house, entrance lodge, stables, green-house and grapery, and also farmhouse, barns, &c. The approach to the mansion is over a graveled road of about half a mile in length, bordered by a great variety of American and foreign trees. The unusual attractions of the place, the fertility of its soil, its salubrity, and its unexceptionable neighborhood, noted for its fine roads, renders this estate a most desirable country house for a gentleman of taste and fortune.

Maps of the property may be had of the auctioneers, No. 3 Pine-st.

FINANCIAL.

VERMILYE & CO., BANKERS, NO. 44 WALL-STREET,

Will receive subscriptions to the United States Six Per Cent. Five-Twenty Bonds.

Subscribers depositing with us will receive Bonds of date of subscription, subject to no accruing interest.

After a few days the supply from the Government will have been so far increased as to avoid all delays in filling orders, and enable us to keep constantly on hand an assortment equal to the demand.

VERMILYE & CO., Agents 5-20 Loan.

UNITED STATES TREASURY.

NEW-YORK, April 4, 1863.

Parties desiring to obtain the United States six (6) per cent. Bonds of 1862, commonly called Five-twenties, either for investment or resale, can procure them upon application at this office.

JOHN J. CISCO,
Assistant Treasurer U. S.

AGENCY OF THE NATIONAL (FIVE-TWENTY YEAR) LOAN.

OFFICE OF LIVERMORE, CLEWS & CO.,
No. 24 Wall-st., New-York.

We take this means of answering the numerous inquiries made of us respecting the United States Five-Twenty Loan, for which we act as agents.

Said Bonds bear six per cent. interest, payable semi-annually, in gold, on the first of May and the first of November.

Have twenty years to run, but being redeemable at the pleasure of the Government after five years, are designated Five-Twenties.

Are issued both in Coupon and Registered Bonds; the former in denominations of 50's, 100's, 500's, 1,000's; the latter in 50's, 100's, 500's, 1,000's, 5,000's and 10,000's.

The Coupon Bonds have coupons attached for twenty years, and are payable transferable to bearer.

The Registered are issued in the name of the purchaser, (whose name and residence are recorded on the books of the Treasury Department at Washington,) and are only transferable by signature, or power of Attorney, before an authorized Government official. The interest is collected in the same manner at the Sub-Treasury nearest the owner's residence.

Both principal and interest are payable in gold, as provided by act of Congress.

Are, (in common with all Government Bonds,) free from taxation by city, town, county or State; and the income derived therefrom is subject only to one-half of the United States tax levied upon incomes derived from other sources.

The privilege of conversion at par will cease on the 1st of July, 1863.

These Bonds are supplied by us at par and accrued interest in currency—interest commencing to the purchaser upon deposit of the money. Hence, the first coupon falling due, being stamped with the date of the issue of the Bond, will be fractional, instead of three per cent., like the succeeding ones.

We shall shortly be prepared to deliver all the various denominations upon application.

The engravers and printers have been unable to furnish blank bonds to the extent required, but every effort is being made to meet the demand, and it is expected that with the increased force now employed upon them, there will be less delay hereafter.

Orders, by mail or otherwise, accompanied by draft on New-York, or current funds, will be promptly responded to.

LIVERMORE, CLEWS & CO., Bankers.

JEFFERSONVILLE RAILROAD FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

OFFICE JEFFERSONVILLE RAILROAD COMPANY,
JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., March 26, 1863.

In accordance with the terms of an agreement between this Company and the holders of First Mortgage Bonds, dated April [illegible], 1860, Public Notice is hereby given, that this Company will redeem on the 30th day of April next, at the office of the United States Trust Company, New-York City, at the lowest offer below par, all of the outstanding said Jeffersonville Railroad Company's First Mortgage Bonds. Offers for sale of said bonds may be addressed, under seal, to the United States Trust Company aforesaid, and indorsed "Offer of the First Mortgage Bond (or Bonds) of the Jeffersonville Railroad Company to the Sinking Fund," which offers or bids will be received until noon of the 30th day of April next. And public notice is also hereby given the holders of said First Mortgage Bonds, that in case there are no bids offered to sell all of said bonds now outstanding, remaining unpaid, or canceled, as provided in the agreement aforesaid, the United States Trust Company will, upon presentation at their office, No. 46 Wall-st., redeem at par and accrued interest, all of the entire issue of said First Mortgage Bonds, to the number of [illegible], not previously advertised for or surrendered. And notice is hereby given, that from and after the 30th day of April, 1863, interest on all said bonds will cease, as provided in said agreement.

J. H. M'CAMPBELL, Secretary and Treasurer.

SOLAR SALT IN MICHIGAN.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.

It is proposed to form a Company with a
CAPITAL OF $500,000,
FOR THE MANUFACTURE OF SOLAR SALT
At East Saginaw, Michigan,

Under the "General Law" of that State, employing the brine peculiar to that locality, unequaled in strength and purity by any yet discovered.

The large profits heretofore obtained from the manufacture of this staple, under less advantageous circumstances than now presented, guarantee success.

Capitalists seeking investment are invited to share in this enterprise, where safety and profit are assured.

F. W. FELLOWES represents the Company at their office, No. 37 William-st., where the Prospectus of the Saganaw Company may be had. Also maps, and accurate survey of land can be seen.

PROPOSALS.

PROPOSALS FOR DESIGNS, MODELS AND PRINTING OF TREASURY NOTES.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, March [illegible], 1863.

PROPOSALS are hereby invited for Designs for Treasury Notes to be issued under the act approved March 3, 1863.

Proposals will be received for the denominations of 10s, 20s, 50s, 100s, 500s, 1,000s and 5,000s, the right being reserved by the Secretary of the Treasury to omit any of the above denominations from accepted offers, or to substitute the designs of one denomination for those of another, or to use them interchangeably, or to alter their legends.

The designs must be national in their character, and preference will be given, under equal circumstances, to such as have not been used, in whole or in part, upon any currency, bond, certificate, or other representative of value, and completed bills must all be of the uniform size of seven inches by three inches.

Proposals must be for both the obverse and reverse of the notes. The obverse must prominently present the words "TREASURY NOTE," with the following or similar legend: "Two years after date the United States will pay to bearer fifty dollars, with interest at five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually," as follows:

On the first day of October, 1863, one dollar and fifty cents.

On the first day of April, 1864, one dollar and fifty cents.

On the first day of October, 1864, one dollar and fifty cents.

On the first day of April, 1865, one dollar and fifty cents.

The sums denoting the accrued and accruing interest must be placed near the centre of the width of the note and about two inches from its right-hand end.

Space must be allowed for the seal and for the signatures of the Treasurer and Register.

On the reverse there must be two tablets, to contain the following legends, or such others of about the same number of words as may be substituted by the Secretary:

1st. "This note will be exchanged by the Treasurer or any Assistant Treasurer or any specially designated depositary of the United States for United States notes equal in amount to its face value and interest to last date of interest payment; or "This note is a legal tender to the same extent as United States notes for its face value, without interest."

2d. "Every person making or engraving, or aiding to make or engrave, or passing or attempting to pass any imitation or alteration of this note; and every person having in possession a plate or impression made in imitation of it, or any paper made in imitation of that on which the note is printed, is guilty of felony, and subject to fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding fifteen years at hard labor, or both."

Proposals will be received until the 18th day of April, 1863, and must in all cases be accompanied by models or illustrative drawings.

[illegible]

If the proposals are for the entire work, they must state at which of the following post offices the impressions will be delivered [illegible] Cincinnati, Chicago, Buffalo, New-York, or Boston.

CAUTION TO LADIES.

Madame RESTELL, Female Physician, No. 162 Chambers-street, deems it her duty to caution ladies against impostors, who appropriate her advertisements, word for word, merely substituting some ignorant and wholly irresponsible person as "Madame." These persons have spurious "Female Monthly Pills" and other poisonous compounds to deprive the unwary or the easily duped, as well of their means as of their health. That ladies may avoid these impositions, Madame Restell feels called upon to give this caution.

SURE CURE—BY DR. POWERS, SUCCESSfully associated with Dr. WARD, No. 12 Laight-st. Conducted on the plan of the Hospital des Veneriens, Paris, where those afflicted with any form of private disease can receive prompt treatment, without risk or exposure, viz.: Syphilis, gonorrhea, gleet, stricture, [illegible] syphilis, diseases of the kidneys, &c., &c. Thirty years of extensive practice, exclusively devoted to the treatment of those complaints enable us to effect cures in cases where others of long experience have failed. Dr. Powers' Essence of Life restores the vigor of youth in four weeks. This marvelous [illegible] to the most shattered constitutions—physical disqualifications, impediments to marriage, thereby speedily cured. The men to consult, Drs. Ward and Powers, the champions and kings of venereal diseases, possessing the most certain, speedy and only effectual remedies in the world, guarantee a perfect cure or no charge, in from one to three days. Established in 1860. N. B.—Those who have used their preventives are never without. Send for a circular. To Ladies.—Dr. Powers' Periodical Drops are a safe and certain remedy for monthly irregularities. The above remedies sent by mail. The afflicted should read their circular. Postage free, on receipt of a stamp. Cures warranted.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by DR. WARD & CO., No. 12 Laight-st., near Canal, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 25 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all other combined. [illegible] By his special experience in this much-neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhea or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks. Permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to DR. WARD, No. 12 Laight-st., the only place. Call, send or write.

MADAME RESTELL, FEMALE PHYSICIAN, can be consulted, as usual, at No. 162 Chambers-st., or by letter, and medicine sent by mail. Her FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS are the only medicine married or single ladies can rely upon with safety and certainty. Price $1 a box. Sold at No. 162 Chambers-st., No. [illegible] Liberty-st. and No. 403 Hudson-st., New-York. Can also be obtained at No. 244 Grand-st., Williamsburgh, and No. 275 Fulton-st., Brooklyn, or by mail. All other "Female Monthly Pills" are counterfeit.

N. B.—Ladies who desire to avail themselves of Madame RESTELL'S valuable, certain and safe mode of removing Obstructions, suppressions, &c., &c., from whatever cause, without the use of medicine or instruments, can do so at one interview.

THE VIGOR OF YOUTH IS RESTORED by Dr. POWERS' ESSENCE OF LIFE OR INVIGORATING ELIXIR, and Dr. Powers' Radical Pills or Physical Regenerator. Young man! Are you subject to that soul and body destroying disease resulting from secret habits? Dr. POWERS' Invigorating Essence and Radical Pills briefly cure the very worst cases, while innocent of anything deleterious, and are warranted a never-failing cure. Prepared and sold by Dr. POWERS, No. 12 Laight-st., New-York. Afflicted, try them! They will certainly cure. Send for circular; read it carefully, and then you will send for the remedies.

IMPORTANT TO THE MARRIED AND THOSE ABOUT TO BE MARRIED.—Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, has just published the 100th edition of the valuable book, entitled "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION," strictly intended for those whose health or circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family. Price $1. Sold at his office, No. 129 Liberty-st., New-York; or can be sent by mail, free of postage to any part of the United States and Canada, by inclosing $1, and addressing Box No. 1,224 New-York City. For sale by H. RICHARDSON, at No. 1 Vesey-st. (Astor House,) and No. 18 Ann-st.; FEDERHEN & CO., 13 Court-st., Boston.

DR. CORBETT, MEMBER OF THE N. Y. University, (Medical College,) and Royal College of Surgeons, London, has removed from No. 19 Duane-st. to his present very convenient suite of offices at No. 22 Centre-st., between Chambers and Reade sts., with a private entrance at No. 6 City Hall-place, where he can be consulted with the most honorable confidence on all diseases affecting the urinary organs; thirty years in his present specialty, (three of which have been at the Hospitals of this City,) enable him to guarantee a cure in every case undertaken, or make no charge. Strictures of the urethra, impotency, seminal weaknesses, &c., treated on the most scientific principles. N. B.—As a proof of Dr. C.'s qualifications, he would call special attention to his Diploma, which can be seen in his office.

DR. COOPER, NO. 14 DUANE-ST., MAY BE confidently consulted on all diseases of a private nature. A practice of 30 years, devoted to the treatment and cure of Syphilitic, Mercurial and diseases of a delicate nature, enables Dr. C. to make speedy and permanent cures, no matter of how long standing the case may be. Strictures of the urethra and seminal weakness, [illegible] by a secret habit, effectually cured. The victims of misplaced confidence, who have been misled by quack advertisements, can call on Dr. C. with the certainty of being radically cured. N. B.—Dr. C. is a qualified physician and surgeon, and a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New-York. Office hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

SOMETHING FOR EVERY LADY.—DR. WARD'S Great Female Benefactor or Golden Regulating Pills. Infallible in correcting, regulating and removing all obstructions, from whatever cause, designed for purely legitimate purposes—to restore the menstrual fluid—and they will never disappoint the anxious patient. Office, No. 12 Laight-st., where Dr. WARD can be consulted, confidentially, day and evening.

DR. VAN SPELT'S INDIAN MAGIC PILLS—Guaranteed to cure all secret diseases in four days. Only $1 per box. His liquid preservative, to act as preventive, is recommended by the faculty; $1 per bottle. Consultations daily in his office, No. [illegible] Broadway, from 10 A. M. to 1 P. M., and 4 to 8 P. M.

SULPHUR AND VAPOR BATHS—ESTABlished in 1830.—The only genuine baths in the United States, at No. 4 Carroll-place, Bleecker-st., corner of Laurens, for cure of rheumatism, mercurial affections, &c. Given daily by Dr. A. L. TIMOLAT & CO.

PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—DR. HUNTER has, for thirty years, confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated no less than fifty thousand cases without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases, when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb, unless his remedy is used. That is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known, that scientific men in every department of medical knowledge begin to appreciate it, for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians, in regard to some pitiful patient who has exhausted the whole field of the faculty, and still the disease will appear. Its popularity is so great, that there is not a quack doctor in the City that has not attacked it; and when they find their lies are not so easily swallowed, they then pretend that they can make it. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for 12 three-cent stamps, 300 pages, 100 colored illustrations. The best work out.

FOR SALE.—A STEAM ENGINE, BOILER, shafting, pulleys, &c., a six-horse horizontal engine, in good order; also a complete set of silversmith's tools, rollers, lathes, patterns, &c., to be sold in lots to suit purchasers. Apply at No. [illegible] Spring-st.

PUBLIC NOTICES.

NOTICE TO TAX-PAYERS.

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF TAXES AND ASSESSMENTS, No. 32 CHAMBERS-ST., NEW-YORK,
Jan. 16, 1863.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the ASSESSMENT ROLLS of the REAL and PERSONAL ESTATE of the City and County of New-York, for the year 1863, will be open for Inspection and Review from and after MONDAY, Jan. 19, 1863, and will remain open till the 30th day of April, 1863, for the correction of errors and the equalization of the assessments of the aforesaid Real and Personal Estate of the City and County of New-York. All persons believing themselves to be aggrieved must make application to the Commissioners during the period above-mentioned, in order to obtain the relief provided by law. The Act of 1859 provides that "During the time the books shall be open to public inspection, as hereinbefore provided, application may be made by any person considering himself aggrieved by the assessed valuation of his real or personal estate, to have the same corrected. If such application be made in relation to the assessed valuation of real estate, it must be made in writing, stating the ground of objection thereto, and thereupon the Commissioners shall examine into the complaint; and if, in their judgment, the assessment is erroneous, they shall cause the same to be corrected. If such application be made in relation to the assessed valuation of personal estate, the applicant shall be examined under oath by the said Commissioners, who shall be authorized to administer such oath, or any of them; and if, in his or their judgment, the assessment is erroneous, they shall cause the same to be corrected, and fix the amount of such assessment as they may believe to be just, and declare their decision thereon within thirty days after such application shall have been made to them. No reduction shall be made by the Board of Supervisors of any assessment on real and personal estate imposed under this act, unless it shall appear, under oath or affirmation, that the party aggrieved was unable to attend within the period prescribed for the correction of Taxes, by reason of sickness or absence from the City."

AFFAIRS IN ENGLAND.

The Polish Rebellion—The Alabama and British Neutrality in Parliament—Confederate Loans and Steamers—Mr. Bright—British Interest in Ending the War—The Emancipationists and the Real Feeling in England—The Confederate Fleet—War—Ireland—France in Mexico.

London, Saturday, March 28, 1863.

The apparent break-down of the Polish rebellion has turned the public attention once more to the war in America. There was an excited debate last night in the House of Commons about the threats of war, breaches of neutrality, Alabama, capture of the Peterhoff, and several other matters of interest. Mr. FORSTER arraigned the Government for its neglect. Mr. BRIGHT charged them with a cold and unfriendly neutrality. The Solicitor-General declared that they had done everything which the law required, and that, judged by American authorities and precedents the Federal Government had no right to complain. Then Mr. LAIRD, the builder of the Alabama, declared that he had been perfectly open and above-board, and had in no respect violated the law, and amid the cheers and laughter of the House, declared that he had received proposals from an agent of the Federal Navy Department to build iron-clads and rams, completely armed and equipped, and offered to place the correspondence in the hands of Lord PALMERSTON. He asked which was the greatest violation of neutrality, to sell ships without guns, or to send to New-York cargoes of rifled cannon? He stated that since the commencement of the war there had been shipped from Liverpool to the Northern ports, more than 60,000 muskets, 370,000 rifles, 62,000,000 percussion caps, and many cargoes of "hardware." These were from Custom-house manifests which had passed through the hands of the American Consul at Liverpool.

What more could be said? Mr. BRIGHT declared that war steamers, iron-clads and rams were building now for the Confederate Government. The localities of fourteen of them have been given; but the Government cannot interfere. A whole fleet is preparing as rapidly as possible, ostensibly for the Emperor of China. Everybody knows they are intended to open the Confederate ports. Everybody knows that the Confederate loan was raised to purchase their outfit. This was the reason why eighteen millions—nearly $100,000,000—was subscribed, when only $15,000,000 was wanted. This was the reason why the stock went up to par and to five per cent. premium, though taken at eighty and put on the market at ninety.

The simple truth of the matter is that, with the active sympathy of the upper classes, and the "neutrality" of the Government, a strong party of English capitalists, cotton speculators, ship builders and merchants have taken up the cause of the South in earnest, and mean to put it through. They have embarked their millions, and do not mean to lose them. The Government cannot interfere to prevent it, and has no disposition to do so. As Lord PALMERSTON said last night, if they attempted to amend the law, they might make it worse. The Government will be neutral. It may even pass over the seizure of the Peterhoff by Capt. WILKES. They will let the North buy all the "hardware" in Birmingham, but they neither can nor will prevent the departure of a single one of the fourteen steamers which Mr. BRIGHT says are fitting out for the Confederate Government. England, as a Government, is not at war with you, but English capitalists and manufacturers are, and I do not see how it is to be helped.

The interest, you must grant, is a very strong one. Look at the millions of capital rusting away in Lancashire; look at the great cotton manufacturing interest, which has encircled the world; at the closed cotton ports, the dragging war which shows no sign of a termination, the starving populations already beginning to break out into riot and disorder.

You talk of war. They ask nothing better. The more you threaten, the less likely the Government will be to interfere with their projects. A war, they think, would soon settle the matter. You will take Canada. Well, it was but the other day that Mr. GLADSTONE was for getting rid of that troublesome province, on any terms. You will send out privateers. If you do, your ports will be blockaded, and all others closed against them, so that privateering will not be profitable. Ships will go armed with Armstrong guns, or be guarded by men-of-war steamers. That is the way Englishmen feel. They are growing so irritated and disgusted with the war that they are ready for anything that will put an end to it. The efforts of the Emancipationists have not changed the feelings of the upper classes at all. If abolition was ever a favorite idea of the aristocracy, it is so no longer. It is consigned to the oblivion of the lower millions. The Times openly defends Slavery. The other higher-class papers apologize for it. Mr. BRIGHT is still the brave and eloquent champion of the North, but he finds very little sympathy in or out of Parliament, except among the working men, who are in earnest in the cause of free labor—all the more earnest because they are oppressed and degraded as freemen are nowhere else in the world. Mr. BRIGHT made a most eloquent speech in favor of the National Government, a few nights ago, to a Trades' Union meeting, at St. James Hall. It was well meant, but very useless. The Times is not far from right when it asserts that the whole public of England—meaning the voting and income tax-paying public—all but a few disappointed Republicans, hope for the success of the South.

Lord Hartington, in an election speech this week, stated the whole case. He had just come from America, where he had traveled in both sections, and he was out and out Southern, and declared that no union could be restored, nor could the South be conquered. This opinion was never so firm as at this moment. Is it strange that strong efforts should be made to hasten a result in which faith is so general?

If the statements publicly made, and apparently based on good authority are to be believed, the Confederates, within a month, will have at sea one of the most formidable fleets that ever steamed out upon the Atlantic. The steamers now preparing will be as fleet, as strong and as powerful as British machinists can make them. You have not begun to fortify the Northern ports a day too soon. I cannot tell when the blow will fall. I only know that the Confederates here are in a radiant jubilation. They care nothing about Vicksburgh or Charleston. They expect to go home in "ninety days." They care nothing for the new Union movement in the North. They care not for recognition. The Money market has recognized them—that is enough. If Cotton is not king, it is at least a hard subject, and has given them a loan of $15,000,000 with the offer of six times as much. That is glory enough.

You may hear more of the Peterhoff, but it is impossible to say what Earl RUSSELL will do. But British merchants will do as they like in spite of him. If you want war, I judge that it can be had, and then you can turn the 400,000 rifles sent from Liverpool in this direction. War really exists at this moment, under the forms of peaceful intercourse. What [illegible] worse if it were avowed and open?

The matter of Federal recruiting in Ireland has come up in the House once or twice; but as there will be no meeting until after the Easter holidays, Earl RUSSELL will see to it. Mr. BRIGHT told them last night that every Irishman abroad was an enemy to England. He might have put in four out of every five at home, and whether in England or Ireland. But, though this is perfectly true, the Irish fill up the ranks of the army, and fight bravely for whatever flag waves over them. They are loyal and disloyal—both after their own fashion. They fight for the North and for the South, and would fight for England and against her. Ireland neutralizes herself everywhere, and spends her strength for naught. What England has got is money, and that will command everything else.

France hopes to make a triumphal entry into Mexico April 1, establish a Government, take possession of a dozen silver mines to pay expenses, and be ready for further operations.

The Destruction of the Ship John A. Park—The Cargo British Property.

From the London Times, 27th ult.

Capt. S. COOPER, master of the ship John A. Park, of Hallowell, who arrived yesterday by the ship Miss Nightingale, thus reports the destruction of his vessel by the Confederate steamer Alabama. He sailed from New-York for Montevideo on the 13th of February, with a cargo of lumber. On the 2d inst., being in lat. 29 15 N., long. 26 20 W., at daylight the second officer reported a steamer ahead, bark rigged, which proved to be the Alabama. A boat came alongside with an armed crew, and boarded and took charge of the ship. Capt. COOPER was taken before Capt. SEMMES, who asked him if he knew to whom the cargo belonged; and he answered he could not say, but referred for information to the bills of lading, which specified, by certificates of the British Consul at New-York, that the cargo was British property. After examination of the papers, Capt. SEMMES expressed his opinion that the cargo was not British property. Capt. COOPER was then ordered on board his own ship, and told to bring his clothes, and those of his crew, on board the Alabama. When the work of transferring the stores had been completed, the crew of the Alabama set fire to the ship. The English bark Miss Nightingale, bound for London, was in sight, and Capt. COCHRANE kindly consented to take home to England Capt. COOPER, his wife and two young men. The remainder of the ship's company, consisting of three mates, a carpenter and 16 seamen, were left on board the Alabama. The captain and the two young men were compelled to sign a parole of honor not to serve against the Confederate States during the war.

FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

More Reviews—The Brooklyn Fourteenth N. Y. S. M.

HEADQUARTERS, ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Friday, April 10, 1863.

The President still remains with us, and seems determined to see all that there is to be seen, and manifests a disposition to remedy evils and correct errors, if, upon a thorough examination of this whole army, there are any to be found. Yesterday he reviewed a portion of the troops at Belle Plain, and to-day he will do the same near Stafford Courthouse.

The spot selected for the review yesterday was one of the most romantic to be found in a State abounding in picturesque and attractive scenery. The location is about ten miles from these headquarters, in a southeasterly direction, on the banks of the Potomac, a short distance below the mouth of Potomac Creek, where there is a plateau some two miles in length, and extending back one mile from the river bank, completely shut in by a chain of small, steep hills—which look as if dropped into their present place from some other sphere as if by accident, a peculiarity that characterizes much of this portion of Virginia. No better place could have been selected to give effect to a large force of troops. Each regiment formed in columns by division, and ready to be reviewed.

The President yesterday, wearied somewhat, doubtless, by his previous rides in the saddle, rode to the parade-ground in a carriage, accompanied by Mrs. LINCOLN. Gen. HOOKER, with the usual cavalcade and escort of lancers, accompanied the President. The only demonstration made on the route was while passing through a camp of one of the bodies of troops reviewed on Wednesday, where the soldiers lined the carriage-way, and in a familiar, but not insolent manner, asked to have the Paymaster sent along. The troops reviewed made an excellent appearance, and the complimentary remarks in relation to those reviewed on Wednesday, in my letter of yesterday, can be appropriately applied to them. One regiment, however, attracted particularly the attention of not only the President and Gen. HOOKER, but, in fact, all others present. This was the Brooklyn Fourteenth N. Y. S. M., or better known by the soubriquet applied to it by the rebels in the first battle of Bull Run, as "The Red-legged Devils," because they fought so desperately. As this regiment passed in review, "Splendid," "That is splendid," was uttered on all sides—and it was a splendid sight. The Seventh New-York, in its palmiest days, never marched better on the Russ pavement in Broadway, with thousands of the fair sex looking on, inspiring them by their presence to do their best. The Fourteenth has now for duty about 500 men, but there are less than 150 of those who originally came out with it; the balance have enlisted since. All in all, no regiment in the service is composed of better material or is under better discipline. The regiment has been engaged in some twenty battles and never has been found wanting. Capt. JORDAN, of Co. A—a worthy officer—has recently been promoted to the Majority of this regiment.

The rebels across the river are much annoyed by the movement of troops on this side of the river. On Wednesday, as an offset to our review on that day, they marched a whole brigade to near the river bank and had a review of their own.

AN EXTENSIVE ROBBERY IN RIDGE-STREET.—An Englishman, named John WILSON, was brought before Justice OSBORNE yesterday, at the Essex Market Police Court, charged with having broken into and robbed the house of MAX S. MEYER, No. 3 Ridge-st., of money and goods amounting to about $2,000. Among the stolen property there was gold coin in $10 and $5 pieces to the amount of $1,100, and Treasury Notes to the extent of $300. The balance of the plunder consisted of silver coin, silk dresses, coats, pants and other articles of wearing apparel. Officer GASTLIN, of the Thirteenth Precinct, discovered the prisoner as he was leaving the premises with a large bundle under his arm, and believing him to be a suspicious character, he followed him a short distance, and finally took him into custody. All the stolen property was recovered from the possession of the accused, with the exception of the money. It is presumed that WILSON had ingeniously passed the latter to an accomplice immediately after the robbery was consummated. In WILSON's possession were found a set of skeleton keys, a jimmy, and other instruments usually carried by burglars. The accused, when taken before the magistrate, stated that he was an English sailor, just arrived on a packet ship from [illegible]. The police state, however, that he is a skillful and experienced English burglar, who has been some time operating around New-York. He was committed for examination.

Mr. MIDDLETON, whose pictures, after STUART, of GEORGE and MARTHA WASHINGTON, have attracted such general attention from the Press and the public for their absolute fidelity to the original, has added to the series a half-length of WEBSTER. The likeness is very good, the expression being one of his best. As a work of art it is executed with wonderful fidelity and skill, and will, with the set, be a valuable addition to any public gallery or private parlor.

☞ FRANK LESLIE'S Lady's Magazine for May, just issued, is well filled with illustrations of the Fashions of the Season, and with attractive and interesting literary matter. It is elegantly printed, and contains a large number of spirited engravings besides those relating to the fashion. It is a capital number.

Brig.-Gen. Crawford, U. S. Army; Major-Gen. W. B. Franklin, U. S. Army; Capt. R. O. Ives, of Boston; Major Brevoort, A. A. G., and E. Sturtevant, A. D. C., are at the Brevoort House.

Major F. McKenney, U. S. Army; Capt. M. Crawford and LeRoy Crawford, of Oregon; W. P. Kramer, of Baltimore; S. L. Oliver, of Williamsport, Penn., and Capt. J. Moore, N. Y. S. Vols., are at the Metropolitan Hotel.

Col. H. B. Smalley, of West Point; Henry Ashhurst, of Philadelphia, and Eug. I. de Sable, of Panama, are at the Albemarle Hotel.

The Court of Appeals.

ALBANY, Sunday, April 12.

In the Court of Appeals, Saturday, the case of the New-York Policemen against the Police Commissioners was decided, judgment being rendered for the defendants, with costs.

The weather is warm and rainy. The docks are again submerged. The river is rising.

Broadway Railroad.

It having been objected against the proposal of A. T. STEWART and others to accept the franchise of a Railroad in Broadway, and pay therefor $2,000,000, or run the road at three cents fare, that this offer was made before the bill in the Senate had received important amendments, it will be seen from their offer made this day to the House, that it has been renewed, to apply to the bill as it passed the Senate; and in addition, that they propose to give bonds to complete and operate the road within the time specified in the bill; and, further, that they agree to accept the franchise for the equal benefit of all owners of street property on the several lines embraced in the bill, and, ultimately, for the benefit of the City, which may at any time be substituted in their place and stead, on making restitution for the outlay.

The proposition in this shape sets at rest all clamors as to the bona fides of the transaction, and proves conclusively that the issue is fairly presented to the Legislature, whether the grant shall be given away, or shall be made so that the two million dollars may be received by the City or State, and employed for the benefit of disabled soldiers or otherwise. The bill makes provision to pay all stage lines:

To the Honorable the Senate and Assembly of the State of New-York:

Your petitioners, residents of the City of New-York, represent that they are willing, and hereby offer and agree to accept the grant contained in the bill as it has passed the Senate, for the construction of a railroad in Broadway and other streets in the City of New-York, and construct the road therein authorized with all reasonable and proper dispatch, they to be restricted to a passenger fare of three cents; or if such fare shall be five cents, as specified in the bill, they will pay to the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New-York, or to the State of New-York, or for any other purpose designated by the Legislature, annually, for the period of ten years, the sum of two hundred thousand dollars in lieu of all license fees, and after said ten years, submit to the payment of the ordinary license fee for each car, now imposed in said City. And inasmuch as this offer is made for the protection of the City against the great injustice of passing the bill as it has passed the Senate, the undersigned are willing to accept the grant on the express condition that on reimbursing them, the City of New-York may enjoy such franchise in their place and stead.

The property owners on the several lines, if they elect, to be interested in the grant, and liable equally with your petitioners, according to their respective interests.

It being understood that whatever bond may be required by the committee having charge of the bill in the House, or by the Legislature, to complete and operate the road within the time specified in the bill, shall be immediately executed.

HAYTI—HER PLAN OF IMMIGRATION.

Mr. J. DENNIS HARRIS, formerly of this City, and known as the author of a work entitled, "A Summer on the Borders of the Caribbean Sea," in which is discussed the probable destiny of the Colored Race after Slavery shall have been abolished, having returned to this country in an official connection with the Haytian Legation at Washington, has prepared the following interesting article with regard to Hayti and her policy of immigration:

EDS. CLEVELAND HERALD—I beg to submit through your influential journal a statement of importance to those persons in Ohio and other Western States, who are interested in Hayti, and in her policy of Immigration.

WHAT IS IMMIGRATION?

The question of immigration is not, ordinarily, very difficult to understand. It is the simple removing from one country to another. Whether this removal, including the necessary sacrifices, is desirable, every one, on being informed of the facts relative thereto, should be able to decide for himself.

From which remarks it should be understood that I purpose to review this question simply as a great fact, and without regard to prejudices pro or con. For would it be wise to pretend that any emigration—even from one of these States to another—may be effected without more or less difficulty or inconvenience?

Immigration to Hayti is not to be excepted from the general rule. It may be very easy to go to Hayti, or to any given country; but the mere fact of going is not all. The question is, What is one to do when one gets there? A question entirely overlooked by too many hitherto. Hitherto, too many have gone to Hayti without any just idea as to what they were going there for.

Ridiculous, indeed, are some of the ideas which were commonly entertained here of Haytians only two years ago. Men went there "to teach the natives" how to do this and how to do that. When arrived there they found the boot on the other leg. They found themselves in contact, in fact, with the most advanced nation of black men probably that ever was on earth. The cause is plain enough. The Haytians had stood alone for sixty years, while the colored people of this country were, so to speak, not yet out of their swaddling clothes.

Hayti is the first born of the black family in the New World. Yet the colored people of this country are numerous enough to make half a dozen such States as Hayti and Liberia both. The Haytians see this, and, therefore, say, "Come over and join us. Let us all make one family. Divided, we are weak. Let us be united and be strong!"

Despite, however, the titles which have been conceded her—the first colored nation in America—"the black England of the future"—and the like, she was, nevertheless, hardly prepared to invite to her shores an en masse or indiscriminate immigration.

Let it be understood, therefore, now and henceforth, that Hayti does not seek nor desire an indiscriminate immigration. She wants the elite of the colored race from every quarter. And by the elite, I mean, not the kid-gloved gentlemen of the city, but the really honorable working men of the country, whether from the desk, the work-shop or the farm. Men who have intelligence enough to govern themselves, and to "go ahead" without stopping to demand the direction or the assistance of any one.

The great mistake of the movement hitherto, was made here. I had rather have one family of the right stamp go to Hayti in the course of a month or a year, than fifty times that number of vicious or unsuitable persons. For if but one family of proper persons go, the expense will be small, and the good result commensurate with such expense, which is hardly true of an en masse emigration.

But the principal difficulty in the way of success was, not so much the want of good character as it was the want of any regular business pursuits on the part of persons accustomed to certain menial occupations, such as are not required to any great extent in Hayti.

WHO SUCCEED.

But men of any regular business pursuits, do they not succeed in Hayti?

Let us point to the Rev. J. T. Holly, who notwithstanding a series of sad afflictions, stood firm as a rock, and is now in a fair way of establishing there the Protestant Episcopal Church; to the Rev. J. Simons, now Professor of English in the Lycee National; to farmers, such as, for example, Mr. George Jacobs, near St. Marc, who arrived there one month, received his land the next, and within one year had raised a crop of fine cotton, a crop of corn, and another of "petite mais"—two crops raised in one year—and that from land which had first to be cleared of its undergrowth and fenced; the owner finding time, and being enabled by the assistance of the Government, which is afforded every one, to build a comfortable house, and, in short, to establish himself better in Hayti within twelve months than he had been able to do in Canada in twenty years! And the whole "Jacobs Settlement," as it is called, consists of men who have succeeded nearly as well.

Another, Mr. George Smith, commenced at St. Marc, late in the Spring of 1862, to haul log-wood, etc., without having sufficient means to pay for a single horse; but in the Fall of the same year, had, by dint of industry and superior business tact, been enabled to buy and to use two wagons and seven horses, and was preparing to cultivate, the following Spring, an estate of 300 carreaux.

Of other examples: the Commandant of the Arrondissement of Mirebalais was an emigrant under Boyer, and the present Minister to England was formerly from Philadelphia, Penn.

MERCHANTS.

Again, let us regard the wealthy merchants, and see how they have made their wealth. With all the laws against them, a large part of the country is in the hands of the white merchants, who for the most part began with small capitals, and soon became rich, and yet they have not equal rights there with colored men. If we cannot compete with white merchants in a country where the laws are against them, and in our favor, what is the natural inference? Simply the fact that we are in want of their business education and practical training, which no people will ever understand until circumstances compel them to learn—to learn to do business for themselves.

RELIGION.

Religiously speaking, the success of Rev. Mr. Bird as a Wesleyan Missionary, although he has also the misfortune to be white, is another example of what may be accomplished there by energy and perseverance. The premises under his charge embrace a college building, a fine church, and a dwelling-house, the whole of which premises are lighted with gas, generated on the place. And a finer congregation than attends his church is not to be desired.

AGRICULTURE.

But it is to the prosperity of agriculture that Hayti owes her present proud position. A table of exports and of imports would be of interest to the commercial men of Ohio, but in this article, it is enough to say that Hayti exports a ton for every family on the Island, or at least on that part of it over which she has jurisdiction, a ton for every family.

FINANCE.

With regard to finance, Hayti is perhaps the model Republic of the age. President Geffrard, thanks be to his present Minister of State, was able to proclaim in his address delivered Jan. 1, 1863, that the country did not owe a cent to any one which it was not able and willing to pay, and that without having recourse to borrowing from any source.

"To-day," says the President, in that celebrated address, "order reigns in our finances. With order and economy public credit is assured. With credit and tranquillity will come successively all the promised ameliorations."

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.

And again he says: "A line of steamboats is destined to serve our coast a new regime of customs; the establishment of light-houses on several points of the island; the reparation of streets and of public roads; the creation of telegraphic lines; the construction of several public fountains in various localities; the extension of the postal service, &c.—such are the principal material ameliorations which have fixed my attention."

Since the first of January, moreover, propositions have been received and accepted for other improvements, among which are the erection of foundries, lighting the city with gas, the construction of street railroads, the extension of wharves, and the revival of immigration, as will have been already understood.

IMMIGRATION.

What now is to be the policy of the Government in this regard? Properly speaking, I may say that the policy of the Government is unchanged. That is to say, the original policy was departed from for a season in order to meet the exigencies brought on by the embarrassing circumstances (excessive poverty) of many of the earlier immigrants.

At present, if a man be very poor, Government will not undertake to make him at once an independent cultivator. But he will be offered work on private estates, and allowed to cultivate his own land as he becomes able. To those who have means to commence at once an independent cultivation, lands will be granted as heretofore.

But there will be no more of an indiscriminate or en masse immigration. To be sure, the country is free and open to all, good and bad, only the bad are not to be sent at Government expense. The country wants population—is weak but from the want of numbers. Recognizing this fact, Haytians will do everything possible to encourage all persons of African descent who may come to live among them.

CONCLUSION.

The cloud which obscured for a time the sunlight of Haytian immigration is therefore dispelled. The difficulties arising from hasty and premature conceptions as to the wants of the country on the one hand, and the interests of the immigrants on the other, have been considered and overcome. Lighted by the lamp of experience, the pathway of the future is plain.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH
BITTERS.
READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of HEALTH. "But how?" you ask;
We answer, 'tis an easy task.
Strengthen the STOMACH, and sustain
The NERVES, the servants of the brain.
The LIVER keep in active play
And regulate, from day to day,
Each organ aid, on Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the INNER MAN,
And like a watch, that's kept in chime
By constant care, with railroad time,
The system's tone and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits, too.
"How," you inquire, "can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease be won?"
"HOSTETTER'S BITTERS," we reply,
Is HEALTH'S SUPREME PROTECTION—TRY!

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation, either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Against the vapors foul prepare,
That fever-taint the heavy air,
Drink not unmixed the water found
In prairies, woods, or marshy ground.
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist—or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries.
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent;
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—be safe
They are the SUREST ANTIDOTE.

To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy belts, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work-rooms and factories, and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be forearmed with

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Dyspepsia's pangs, that rack and grind
The body, and depress the mind;
Agues, that as they go and come,
Make life a constant martyrdom;
Colics and dysenteric pains,
Death which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Billious complaints, those tedious ills,
Ne'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhea that cannot be
Cured by destructive mercury;
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer, day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these—though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail,
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS—medicine sure,
Not to prevent, alone, but cure.

In dyspepsia, fever and ague, billious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, sick-ness, spasms, and in all complaints of Man or Woman proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

To wanderers on sea or land,
From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To households lone, in regions new,
And dwellers in great cities, too;
To soldiers in camp, fort and field,
Who need against disease a shield;
To miners, California bound,
And tillers of wet, marshy ground;
To feeble wives of fragile mold,
To young and middle-aged, and old;
To those in health, who would enjoy
Heaven's best gifts without alloy;
To all the strengthless, weak and pale,
Who droop, yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element.

If there is any value in public opinion, or any weight in medical testimony, the very best and safest Tonic, Corrective and Alterative now before the world is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Sold by respectable druggists in all parts of the world.
